Commuters Win Better Service Here

ORINDA SUN

VOL. VIII, NO. 33 — LAFAYETTE — ORINDA, CALIFORNIA — FRIDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1950 — TEN CENTS

WHEN GOOD FELLOWS get together they feel happy. And when two groups of good fellows, the Orinda Lions and the Orinda Rotarians, get together it's a doubly happy and significant occasion. Here are Frank Olsen (left), president of the Orinda Rotary Club, and Don Hunter, president of the Orinda Lions Club, at the two organizations' first joint meeting at Orinda Willows recently.

Telephones Will Be Busy Nov. 9 - 19 During Orinda Assoc. Member Drive

Orinda telephones will really start buzzing in doubletime starting Thursday, November 9.

That's the opening date of the big Orinda Association membership drive which will be held 10 days, through November 19.

The new twist to the community-wide campaign will be use of the telephone to sign "every family in Orinda" as members of the Orinda Association, according to Mrs. George Vurek, general chairman.

"We want to approach every family in Orinda and discuss the work of the Orinda Association," she explained. "We first decided on a 100 per cent, house-to-house canvass. This, of course, entails a tremendous amount of organization and effort.

"Then, too, we realize that the people of Orinda are very, very busy. So we decided to phone every Orinda home in addition to some home visits."

Mrs. Vurek pointed out that this will simplify the work and, at the same time, Orindans should approve of the idea because it will take less of their time.

"Telephone campaigns are used exclusively in other communities similar to Orinda. The Orinda Sun, for example, has used it most successfully to build its circulation. We are hopeful that the drive will be even more successful because of the phone solicitation."

BUT NOT EASY

Bob Clough and Harold Rote, co-chairmen of solicitation, point out that it will require cooperation of many, many people to make the telephone canvass a success.

"We are dividing the telephone book into sections and each solicitor will be responsible for a number of calls. We plan to hold a meeting of all solicitors shortly," they stated.

Another feature of the membership drive, Mrs. Vurek said, will be weekend booths—four at the Crossroads and probably one in the Village—to be manned by Boy Scouts under the direction of Mrs. F. R. Devin.

With the theme "Invest in Orinda," the campaign will begin Thursday night November 9, at a community meeting at Orinda School. (See story on this page.)

Last week Edgar Stewart, Andy Blalock and Zach Montgomery were added to the publicity committee, headed by Herman Silverman.

'Guest in House' Set for Nov. 3, 4

There's going to be a "Guest in the House" at Acalanes High School gymnasium next Friday and Saturday evenings.

The Orinda Dramateurs are going to see to it personally by presenting their play of this name with a scintillating cast which has been rehearsing for long hours to present their first production of the season.

Edward O'Brien is director of the production. Mrs. Wirtabel Harris is ticket sales chairman. Tickets may also be purchased from cast members or at the door of the high school gym.

Plan to greet "Guest in the House" on November 3 and 4.

Garden Club's Guest Day Set

Orinda Garden Club's Fall Guest Day will be held at Orinda Country Club next Thursday, 10:30 a.m. Speaker will be Mrs. Marie Stafford of Marin County and graduate of the College of Arts and Crafts, who will talk on "Holiday Arrangements." Luncheon will follow the talk.

Reservations must be made by Monday, with Mrs. H. S. Doane. Mrs. William Wilson, program chairman, will introduce the speaker.

Postmark Nov. 10—Place, New P.O.; C. of C. Set for Big Community Dance

Polish up your dancing shoes or go barefooted, Orinda Chamber of Commerce doesn't really care.

Main thing is that there be a good turnout of Orindans at the Chamber-sponsored dance to be given at the new postoffice site in the Rheem building November 10.

STAMPING

No, you won't have to help sort out the mail, or deliver it, and the only stamping will be confined to the dance floor.

The postoffice is due to be opened for business in these new quarters in November, and this will be Orindans' chance to see the interior of the new site, to enjoy themselves at a gala dance and to provide funds for a new bus shelter for those who wait for transportation at the Crossroads stop.

CAVALCADE OF DANCES

As a special entertainment feature, Diane Trago and her partner will demonstrate a "Cavalcade of Dances, 1900 to 1950," to include the Castle Walk, Charleston, Bunny Hug and more modern dances.

Danny Van Allen, music maestro at Orinda Willows, will also present a short entertainment program and guests will dance to the rhythm of a four-piece orchestra.

Orinda Chamber of Commerce will award prizes at the event—money orders that will be honored by any merchant members in the community.

TICKETS BEING MAILED

Tickets and an explanatory note bearing a sketch of the proposed bus shelter, which was designed by Architect Wayne Littlejohn, are being mailed to all residents of Orinda.

Reserve the night of November 10 for the Orinda Chamber of Commerce community benefit dance!

Orinda May Get Street Signs Made By Local Scouts

If present plans of the Orinda Association's Board of Directors materialize, signless roads in the community may soon be a thing of the past.

Discussed at the board meeting Monday night at Orinda Grammar School were plans for wooden road signs, to be made by Boy Scouts as a community project.

NEXT STEP

Next step is to find out from County Road Commissioner Joseph Barkley if the county has any objection to erection of wooden signs, under sponsorship of the Orinda Association, on non-county roads. If there is no objection, the "go-ahead" to the scouts is expected in short order.

The wooden signs would conform as much as possible to the standard size requirements for metal signs on county roads.

A request to Barkley as to cost of metal signs had not been answered; instead, Barkley's reply merely enclosed copies of the Ordinance regarding county road signs.

SIDEWALK

On another point recently asked Barkley, as to county plans for cutting down the width of the sidewalk on Moraga Highway, in front of Orinda Hardware and Sprouse-Reitz, and for a cross-street off Moraga Highway which would enable motorists to circle back to Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Barkley merely replied to the effect that "a plan is being prepared for widening the sidewalks."

A letter from the Truck Owners Association of California was read assuring the association it is willing to work with the association for a solution of the problem of big trucks on the highway during the morning rush period.

FIRE BONDS

Fire Commissioner Gilbert Earle clarified the picture as to the proposed $130,000 fire bond issue. The outlook now, he said, was that a second new fire house, in the Sleepy Hollow section, might be built much sooner than had been anticipated at first.

However, if the bond issue passes, it will still be necessary to sell $75,000 of the bonds first for construction of a fire house at Moraga Highway and Orchard Road and for purchase of a Sleepy Hollow site, and to sell the remaining $55,000 later for building of the Sleepy Hollow station.

"We can't overburden the tax structure," he explained. "We want to go ahead as speedily as possible. As soon as the assessed valuation increases sufficiently, we'll go ahead with the second phase."

Originally it had been expected that a few years might elapse between the construction of the first and second new stations, but now, he said, "if the assessed valuation of the district goes as hoped, it might be a year or a year and a half."

A communication from Orinda Estates Owners, Inc., was read, in which congested traffic conditions on the highway were stressed, and in which renewed pressure on the state was urged.

Possibility of a joint application to the State Highway Department by the Orinda Association, the Orinda Chamber of Commerce and Orinda Estates Owners was discussed.

Three amendments to the association's by-laws were adopted:

(1) Board members who miss three regular consecutive board meetings without prior valid justification will be dropped from the board; (2) more persons shall be nominated in November for association directors than the number of directors whose terms expire at the end of the year; (3) names of candidates for directors may be placed in nomination by 1 per cent of the membership.

Mrs. Zander Improves

Mrs. C. Zander of 128 Moraga Highway is recovering from her recent serious illness and hopes soon to be able to enjoy her Guild and other associations.

Orinda Problems To Be Aired

Community Rally Nov. 9 to Start Membership Drive

Not only one topic but at least a half-dozen subjects, all of urgent importance to the community, will highlight the Orinda Association's community meeting Thursday night, November 9.

With speakers still to be arranged, the agenda for the big rally which will serve as the "kickoff" for the intensive 10-day membership drive of the Orinda Association, was worked out at Monday night's meeting of the organization's Board of Directors at the Orinda Grammar School.

ON THE PROGRAM

Disaster Relief, which originally was considered as the one main subject to feature, will be supplemented by several other topics. These include:

The Crossroads—what about the traffic problems there, what about its future?

Parking—what can be done about the need for more parking space along Moraga Highway?

New Grammar School—what's cooking on efforts by the Orinda School District to obtain a new school site to help take care of the ever-growing school population.

New High School—what's the latest regarding possibility of a high school plant in Orinda?

Fire Bonds—what's all the shouting about, in connection with the November 21 election on the proposed $130,000 bond issue for the fire district? Why is there such a pressing need for more fire-protection and fire-fighting facilities?

The November 9 meeting will be held at the Orinda Grammar School auditorium, and will start at 8 p.m. Admission will be free, and the public is urged to attend.

BARBERSHOPPERS?

In addition to the serious side of the program, there's the possibility that the well-known Orinda Barbershoppers will entertain the crowd with some of their heart-warming selections.

Horace Breed is the chairman to line up speakers and knit the program more closely together. He will be assisted by Bob Clough and Andy Blalock.

BONDS TO PRESIDE

Chairman of the community rally will be President Marvin Bonds of the Orinda Association. Following the discussion of some of the outstanding problems facing the community and a review of what the Orinda Association has accomplished for the community in grappling with these problems, Clough will sound the official "keynote" for the membership drive.

In the absence of President Bonds, who was ill, Vice President Blalock presided at last Monday night's board meeting.

Hallowe'en Room Parties Arranged

Orinda Schools will celebrate Hallowe'en with parties in each room. These parties are being arranged by the room mothers.

Children will wear costumes and after a parade to show off the costumes refreshments will be served in each room.

Greyhound Claims It Loses Money

Public Utilities Commission hearing on Greyhound Lines' request for 5 to 25 per cent rate increases were underway in San Francisco this week.

The company doesn't only want general statewide increases—it also wants commute rate increases right away. Allan O. Matthews, Greyhound attorney, claiming the company was losing $1,000 a day, declared it would be "unjust and unfair" to postpone a decision on commute rates.

But Spurgeon Avakian, attorney for commuter groups, including the Contra Costa County Commuters Association, pointed out that PUC had denied the phone company a rate boost on grounds it was earning approximately 6 per cent, and he maintained that Greyhound has been earning at least 22 per cent on its investment over the past 10 years, after income tax payments.

Get Yardstick, Laughs Pluvius

As we paddled around in deep pools in the lowlands of Orinda Wednesday while Jupiter Pluvius battered us with what must have been tons of water, we thoughtfully read the week's weather report ending Tuesday.

That report indicated .50 inches of rainfall since July 1, .42 inches of it in the past week. (Week ending Tuesday, that is.)

Which only goes to show you that is one reason there is a move to rename Orinda "Tension Terrace." Anything can happen here, and usually does.

The note from Orinda's weather man speaks of Max and Min, whoever they are. Max was 78 on October 19 and Min was 39 on the same date. Oh, we get it now, maximum and minimum.

Wait till he tries to measure Wednesday's rain in hundredths of inches. Get a yardstick, mister.

Moraga Del Rey In Fire District

Moraga Del Rey Unit No. 1 was officially annexed to the Orinda County Fire Protection District Monday by the County Board of Supervisors.

The area recently withdrew from the Eastern Contra Costa Fire District.

Plea for El Toyonal Action Results In County Plans for Inspection Trip

Dangerous road conditions along the upper stretch of El Toyonal and the consequent lack of school bus service there since Tuesday of last week were the subject of a lengthy letter received by the County Board of Supervisors this week.

The letter, from Dr. John P. McKee of the Orinda Highlands Association, was read at the board's weekly meeting Monday in Martinez.

REFERRED TO BARKLEY

The letter, which stressed the need for school bus service in the area, was referred to Board Chairman H. L. Cummings, who is supervisor for the 2nd District, and Road Commissioner Joseph Barkley.

Barkley contacted the transportation staff of the Acalanes High School District, and a field trip of the road will be made by a member of Barkley's staff and a member of the transportation staff. Barkley's office will report to the supervisors on the findings of this trip.

COUNTY ROAD

El Toyonal is a county road. School bus service on it was suddenly discontinued last week from Loma Vista to Upper El Toyonal.

Pressure on the county to repair its road adequately was also coming from another source. The Board of Directors of the Orinda Association, meeting Monday night at the Orinda Grammar School, instructed Secretary Mrs. Roberta Spiegl to write to Cummings about the situation, and to send a copy of the letter to Barkley.

This action was taken on recommendation of the association's Civic Affairs Committee.

Fire Board Explains Present Plans For Construction of 2 New Stations

Considerable interest has been aroused as the result of the article in last week's Orinda Sun regarding the November 21 fire bond election.

To clarify some of the points raised, the Board of Fire Commissioners of the Orinda Fire Protection District has announced that present plans, if the bond issue passes, call for the immediate construction of a new fire house at Orchard Road and Moraga Highway. The site for this house has already been purchased.

SLEEPY HOLLOW SITES

The board is also studying several sites in the Sleepy Hollow area, where a second new fire house is to be built, according to Commissioner Gilbert Earle.

The commissioners pointed out that the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau has assured the district of a 9 per cent reduction in insurance rates upon completion of the Moraga Highway-Orchard Road station and a 19 per cent reduction on completion of the Sleepy Hollow station.

LOWEST POSSIBLE COST

The commissioners further pointed out that it is their desire to provide all of the facilities recommended in a recent survey by the Board of Fire Underwriters so as to give all of Orinda adequate protection at the lowest possible cost.

With this in mind, only $75,000 will be sold to finance construction and equipping the Moraga Highway-Orchard Road fire house and for purchase of the Sleepy Hollow site.

SOON AS POSSIBLE

Construction of the Sleepy Hollow fire house will be commenced as soon as possible.

Development of the Sleepy Hollow site will be accelerated as soon as additional assessed valuation will be provided to allow a favorable bond rate.

It was pointed out that the present trend in the Orinda area indicates an increase in assessed valuation amounting to $1,000,000 a year, and it is hoped that this trend will continue so that the complete program will be consummated as soon as possible.

Orindan Leaves $46,000 Estate

Mrs. Ellie Van Valkenburgh Manor, Orindan who died in Berkeley August 12, left an estate valued at $46,010.47, according to an appraisal report filed in superior court by inheritance tax appraiser Richard C. Johnston of Richmond.

In her will executed June 23, Mrs. Manor left her entire estate to her son, Harold V. Manor of Charles Hill Road.

San Francisco property valued at $15,000 and 110 shares of Standard Oil Company stock with a value of $7,966.25 were included in the estate.

St. Leo's Guild Meets Thursday

St. Leo's School Guild will meet at 12:30 p.m. next Thursday in the school auditorium in Oakland. President Mrs. Donald Pearce will open the meeting. Mrs. George Tolon will speak on "Spiritualizing Thanksgiving."

Tea hour hostesses will be the sixth grade mothers, under the chairmanship of Mesdames Ralph Johnson, James Roberts and Paul Zimmerman.

Hallowe'en? We're Set for 2nd One!

Following are some juvenile festivities inspired recently by—you've guessed it!—birthdays:

PATTY GILLIVAN

Patty Gillivan jumped the gun on Hallowe'en. It being Friday the 13th when she celebrated her fifth birthday, it was quite appropriate.

She invited all the girls in her kindergarten class for a morning of fun, followed by lunch, and then off to school.

ALLEN MONTAGUE

Allen Montague was 8 years old last Saturday. Some of his school friends joined him for ice cream and cake, enjoyed the Hallowe'en decorations and the movies which followed.

KENNETH HAMBERG

Kenneth Hamberg celebrated his 4th birthday, Thursday, October 19, with gay cowboys and cowgirls joining in the fun.

Those present were Carol Ann, Johnny and Susan Walker, Kem and Nancy Pyle, Roger, Kenneth and Louis Stark, Karen Heiser and Barbara Hamberg.

SUSAN KENDALL

Another four-year-old was Susan Kendall, who took her friends to Teatro Para Ninos last Saturday. Those joining her were Mary and Patty Gillivan, Nancy Goebel, Kristine Block, Valerie Renwick and Betty Lou Kendall.

HEIDE VON GUNTHER

Heide Von Gunther was 9 years old and celebrated in quite a grown-up way Saturday, October 14. She had her friends in for dinner and took them to the Park Theater afterwards. Mary McFarland, Jullie Allen, Sandy Miller, Linda Dancione, Dorothy and Ann Reilly were her guests.

NATALIE PRAY

Natalie Pray celebrated her 11th birthday last Sunday by taking her friends to the Paramount theater. Those joining her were Barbara Gibbs, Nancy Long, Judy Parker, Michael Downs and Terry and Denis Collins.

TONI SOULE

Toni Soule was 4 years old Thursday, October 20, and had the following friends in for ice cream and cake: Thea Jensen, Tommy Vail, Mike Kershaw, Terrel Cuningham and Steven Turley.

DICKIE SEYMOUR

Dickie Seymour enjoyed his 3rd birthday with lunch and wading at the Oaks Spring Pool on Friday, October 13. His guests were Michael Williams, Dan and Dickie DeKay, Mike Martin, Bonnie and Bobby Bailey, Bill and Bob Zurcher Kathy and Donny Robertsen Jan and Mark Stanfield Jim and Matt Sander and Steve Boga.

Nothing Fazes Miehle Now; He Just Says, 'I'm 13113'

"Oh, gosh, no," we shuddered. "It can't be . . . not again! After all, Friday the 13th was a couple of weeks ago."

"No matter," replied Miehle, "My serial number, as you'll clearly see if you examine me, is 13113."

"And that," we remarked somewhat testily, "is supposed to explain everything? How a few weeks ago on two successive weeks you kicked some of your teeth out, how you've apparently been O.K. recently after extensive repairs and how today, without any warning, you shoot the works and kick out lots and lots of teeth from that transfer gear. . . ."

Miehle, our press (we don't dare use the adjective "trusty" any more), didn't even deign to reply.

But anyway, here we are again in that eight-column format, thanks to the generous help of the CONCORD TRANSCRIPT, which printed this issue on its press after Miehle's latest temperamental outbreak yesterday.

Frankly, we don't know what to think about it all. Even the mechanical experts from San Francisco are standing around in the SUN plant, scratching their heads.

Maybe Miehle was sore about the rain. Anything's possible with a number like 13113—even two weeks after Friday the 13th!

Greyhound to Add Bus Run to S.F. Next Wednesday

Following persistent demands for better service, Greyhound Lines will place an extra commute bus in operation from this area to San Francisco starting next Wednesday, November 1, according to notice received by Secretary John McKirahan of the Contra Costa County Commuters Association.

McKirahan received a letter Wednesday morning from the California Public Utilities Commission informing him of the additional service to be instituted. The extra morning bus will be on the run from Concord to San Francisco, going through Walnut Creek, Lafayette and Orinda.

McKirahan said the time of this extra morning bus was not definite, but that the bus would probably leave Walnut Creek around 7:30 a.m.

MAJOR COMPLAINT

Insufficient buses for commuters has long been a major complaint of the Commuters Association, which has also been fighting efforts by Greyhound for bus rate hikes.

An extra commute bus was placed in operation August 11, only to be canceled without notice August 22.

DAILY OCCURRENCE

It is a regular daily occurrence for Lafayette and Orinda commuters to be unable to find seats in the San Francisco-bound morning buses, and for Orindans to be forced to wait for two or three buses to go by before there's room for them to climb aboard.

Public Utilities Commission hearings on Greyhound's application for statewide increases and on its renewed request for interim commute fare increases got underway October 23. Early last month the commission denied Greyhound's first current request for interim commute fare hikes.

Rotarians Hear Salvation Army's Colonel Brewer

Colonel Brewer of the Salvation Army, Oakland Rotary Club member, was guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Orinda Rotary Club Wednesday noon at the Willows.

He interspersed his interesting and witty talk with unusual presentation of piano selections in unusual style.

Stan Massie gave a brief explanation of Proposition No. 10 on the November ballot to fellow members.

Announcement was made that a club assembly meeting will be held next Wednesday evening at Stan Allen's office at 7:30. Future programs and business of the service club will be the topics of discussion, according to Wayne Seroy, publicity chairman.

All members of Orinda Rotary have been invited to join the Board of Directors and committee chairmen at this session.

Troop 207 Looks To Busy Year

Troop 207 of Orinda Boy Scouts is looking forward to another busy and enjoyable year of work together.

They are planning an overnight camp trip soon, probably to be held at Carroll's Ranch, Moraga.

COURT OF HONOR

A Court of Honor meeting attended by parents and friends and presided over by General Chairman Paul Kops was held recently. The Court of Honor was conducted by Orvall Sutton, chairman of the advancement committee.

The following boys received merit badges for their work: Joe Conley, John Conley, Allen Sutton, Phil Hunter, John Spiegel, Raymond Orr and Dick Doty.

STAR SCOUT AWARDS

Receiving Star Scout awards were John Conley and Allen Sutton.

Second Class awards were received by Doug Day and Richard Schuler.

The new scouts who received heir tenderfoot badges were Ed Maloney, Phil Dempster, Roger Stocker and Bill Ready.

PATROL LEADERS

The new Senior Patrol leader was announced as Dick Doty and his assistant as John Spiegel. The new scribe is Phil Hunter.

New Patrol Leaders are Billy Hughes, Allen Sutton, John Conley, Tom Hannon, Paul Kops, Jr., and Bruce Smith. The new assistant patrol leaders are David Oakley, Larry Allen, Dick Schuler and Peter St. Hill. Carry-over patrol leaders from last year are Phil Hunter and Dave Blaney.

PLAN SHOW

The boys are working on the program for their annual fund raising show to be held in November in conjunction with Troop 200 and the Explorer Scout troops of Orinda.

Stan Hunn and Jerry Cullen are serving as Scoutmaster and assistant again this year.

Orinda Cub Scouts at UC-Oregon State Game

A large turnout of both Orinda Cub Packs 32 and 52 attended the California-Oregon State football game at the California stadium last Saturday, accompanied by adult leaders.

Stress Fire Bonds as Weapon vs. Fires

Even if there were no financial return, it would be false economy not to improve Orinda's fire protection and fire-fighting facilities, Loren S. Bush, chief engineer of the Board of Underwriters of the Pacific, declares.

Bush, a resident of Orinda, recently wrote Gilbert Earle, member of the Orinda Board of Fire Commissioners, urging pasasge of the proposed $130,000 bond issue for the fire district at the November 21 election.

ORINDA TAXPAYER

"As a taxpayer of Orinda," Bush wrote, "I am conscious of the ever-increasing tax load at all levels of government.

"The answer to this problem, however, lies in discrimination between essential and non-essential spending and not in the elimination of important improvements necessary to keep pace with the growth of our community.

"Surely protection is one of the essentials and fire is the hazard that can do the community the greatest harm. To fail to keep up our defenses against this enemy would certainly be false economy, even if there were no financial return.

"According to a letter from the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau, however, there will be a reduction in fire insurance rates when the proposed program of improvements is completed — but to complete the program, a bond issue is necessary.

NEED NEW STATIONS

"The way our community has grown, and with the resulting increase in traffic, it is quite evident that no longer can we safely depend upon apparatus two or three miles away to protect our homes. The only answer is additional fire stations properly located, and this will cost money.

"Let's pass the bond issue, pay a little more for our fire protection, less for fire insurance, and feel a lot safer by giving our fire department the tools they need to protect us."

TWO NEW FIRE HOUSES

Present plans of the Orinda fire board, if the $130,000 bond issue passes, are for construction and equipping of two new fire houses as soon as possible.

Completion of this entire project will result in a 19 er cent reduction in fire insurance rates, according to the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau.

PLANS DRAWN FOR ONE

Land has been acquired and plans have been drawn for the first of the two new fire houses, to be erected at Orchard Road and Moraga Highway if the bond issue passes. Seventy-five thousand dollars in bonds will be sold to finance this and purchase of another site in the Sleepy Hollow area, where a third fire station will later be built and equipped.

The third station, in Sleepy Hollow, will be built as soon as assessed valuation of the district allows a favorable bond rate. (See separate story.)

Completion of the Moraga Highway- Orchard Road station will result in a 9 per cent reduction in insurance rates.

URGE 'YES' VOTE

Pointing out that fire losses in the district determine the insurance rate, and strongly urging a "Yes" vote in the November 21 fire bond election, the Board of Fire Commissioners stresses:

1. — Without adequate protection, it is inevitable that fire insurance rates will go up.

2. — More equipment, greater manpower, better coverage mean (a) a saving of the property itself and (b) assurance of the lowest equitable fire insurance rates.

'Invest in Orinda' — November 9 to 19!

Another Revival of 'Crackpot California'

(An Editorial)

Years ago, when promoters Willis Allen and Roy G. Owens got their "Ham 'n' Eggs" funny money pension scheme on the ballot, the Nation laughed derisively at "Crackpot California." One jibe, in a magazine article titled "California's Scrip Tease," ran about as follows: "California, the sun-kissed wonderland, where the hardy pioneers have halted on the shores of the Pacific and the mentally sick, lame, halt, blind, crooked and crazy have caught up!"

"Ham 'n' Eggs" was voted down—but the laughter lingered long.

Now Messrs. Allen and Owens are bell-wethering, with three other promoters, the astounding Proposition No. 6, which would legalize gambling in all forms—with themselves in control as commissioners.

This state of affairs has so disturbed Virgil W. Peterson, operating director of the Chicago Crime Commission and one of the Nation's foremost experts on underworld racketeering, that he has written a letter of protest to backers of the legalized gambling scheme.

The five-man Commission," he predicts, "will, of course, eventually be taken over by the professional gambling interests which are, as you well know, representatives of the underworld . . . I fail to note provisions as to the qualifications of the licensees other than a two-year residencee requirement. Apparently . . . Mickey Cohen, Jack Dragna or any of the other gangsters would be qualified to hold a license in their own names."

Mr. Peterson isn't poking fun; he is deadly serious. Yet the irony is implicit when a Chicago expert, writing from Al Capone's old home town, feels it his duty to caution Californians against voting themselves into a morass of racketeering. Chicagoans suffered from organized crime—but at least they never got themselves into the silly position of having to vote on whether to make things easier for their underworld!

No matter how badly Proposition No. 6 is snowed under in November, it will doubtless live on in the Nation's memory as one of the prize political side-show freaks of all time.

GREAT EXPECTATION

Captain Sandford Sez:

HERE'S THE DISH. Pretty phoney deal, sez I.

It seems that on Monday all the local teachers visited other schools. So all the youngsters were given a holiday and had planned a great big day. Some that I know were going horseback riding. Others wanted to crochet or knot or help their mothers do the dishes. . . . Sez who?

And then what? On Monday morning at 6 o'clock it was dry but dull. By 7 it was raining steadily.

And so what? Just nuts—that's all.

HERE'S A STORY about an old pal of mine, a top-notch horseman . . . Charlie Couch. He was riding herd, looking after the cattle, when suddenly, on the edge of some brush, he came upon a female mountain lion.

Charlie didn't know it had kittens or he probably wouldn't have put his rope on it. The mother lion, infuriated, immediately charged and sprang to the horse's withers.

So now we have two passengers up . . . the lion and Charlie.

Charlie sat back clear of the saddle on the rump. The horse managed to buck the lion off and Charlie got back in to the conning tower and took charge again.

Maybe you don't believe this story, but there are men in Lafayette today who will vouch for its authenticity.

I KNEW A MAN who wore false teeth who on the very slightest provocation would whip them out and, holding them close under your nose, give a detailed description of what he could make them do.

I WAS NEVER much of a MacArthur fan, but the results of his work in the Orient maybe should make me change my mind.

PLEASE DON'T vote for me for anything because I'm not standing for any office and furthermore I ain't going to nohow, no time.

Film on Religion At Youth Meeting

A movie on three religions—Catholic, Protestant, Jewish—will be shown at the Methodist Youth Fellowship meeting Sunday night at 6:45, at Lafayette Community Church.

Following the film, questions will be answered by Rev. Harry E. Shaner (on Protestantism), Shirley Mahl (on Judaism) and Ada Vittaly (on Catholicism).

Gary Shallenberger will lead the worship.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I wish to ask your readers if they feel that the best interests of the public are being served by the practice of the State Highway Patrolmen in this area spending a large portion of their time prowling side roads looking for minor traffic violations. I do not — at least while frequent more serious infractions are taking place every day on State Highway 24!

Every commuter is familiar with the "Eager Weaver" who cuts back and forth from one lane to the other and ends up either with a gain of about two car lengths or by becoming involved in an accident.

Another all too familiar driver is the one who has some of the attributes of a politician. He stays as close as possible to the middle of the road and has little concern about getting any place in particular. These characters and others like them contribute directly to serious accidents and can be observed at almost any time preventing the smooth flow of traffic.

Observance of the legal speed limit through the town of Lafayette is the exception rather than the rule. Left turns at Upper Happy Valley Road result in frequent pile-ups due to cars following too closely and to disregard of arm signals. A pedestrian crossing in the marked lane at this intersection must either wait for clear traffic a half mile in both directions or literally take his life in his feet—for few drivers will even slow down.

These examples indicate only a few of the many infractions of the law that are constantly taking place that definitely imperil life and property. Yet how many citations for this type of violation are issued as compared to citations for minor violations that often do not even involve inconvenience to anyone else?

Your report of the parade of traffic violators through Judge Thomson's court indicates that the preponderance is over-heavy on the side of the minor "nuisance" variety.

I'll admit that it is easier to shoot a "sitting duck" than to get a bird on the wing — but it isn't very sporting! I think that an experience of mine is an excellent illustration of the type of lawlessness that our fearless guardians of life and property are combatting.

One rainy evening the past week I double parked in front of the Orinda Pharmacy for five minutes while my wife went in for some necessary medicine. Theater and restaurant patrons had all the available parking space in the area and I remained in the car with my parking lights on.

No stretch of the imagination could conceive that my car could form an obstruction to traffic but, sure enough, there was a [illegible] on my car window and I was handed a citation for double parking together with a curt order to "get moving." This makes me a law breaker, but frankly, I don't feel like one!

Of course, our laws should be enforced. But this enforcement must be accompanied by intelligent and just weighing on the part of the enforcing agencies.

I suggest that an investigation of the percentages of citations issued for various types of violations together with the amount of time and effort expended by the State Police in these various categories would prove very interesting. What do you think?

Concert Trio Performs at Acalanes

The Columbia Concert Trio, talented musical stars now on their fourth successful countrywide tour, were guest artists at the first of the 1950-51 series of programs for the Community Concerts Association members given at Acalanes auditorium Tuesday evening.

The young American artists have played nearly 90 engagements from coast to coast this season. Members of the trio are Ariana Bronn, violinist; Ardyth Walker violin-cellist, and Richard Gregory, pianist.

Twnety-one-year-old Ariana Bronn, a native of New York City took her first lessons from her father who was a pupil of Leopold Auer At the suggestion of Heifetz, she began serious study of music at 11 making her debut the next year in a Carnegie Hall recital, an appearance granted her by the Society for the Advancement of Young Musicians. Since, she has had three recitals in Town Hall, New York.

Iowan Ardyth Walker won a scholarship at the Oberlin Conservatory of Music at 15. On graduation she went to New York with a fellowship to the Juilliard Graduate School, where she had the distinguished 'cellist Felix Salmond as instructor. She has appeared since in recitals and as soloist with orchestras both in this country and Canada.

A native of Yakima, Wash., Richard Gregory grew up in Seattle. He met Eugene List, then on a concert tour, during his high school days and was accepted as a pupil by this artist's teacher, Olga Samaroff, following List's recommendation.

Following a year's study in Philadelphia with Mme. Samaroff, Gregory studied at Juilliard, where he graduated in early 1946. At the same time he made a successful debut at New York's Town Hall. His first engagement in the West included an appearance with the Spokane Philharmonic.

Shattuck and Brown Promise Swift Crackdown on Gambling

Both Edmund G. Brown and Edward S. Shattuck, candidates for Attorney General, promised this week to crack down on gambling.

In reply to open letters from the SUN, sent two weeks ago and asking each what he intended to do about the situation if elected, the two candidates pledged vigorous action.

The letters to the candidates pointed out that gambling exists in the county and included a summary of the grand jury report as corroboration. The open letter then asked:

"If you are elected attorney general in the November election and gambling continues in Contra Costa County, what will you do? What action wil lyou take? What results can we expect?

"These questions are in the minds of many of our law abiding citizens who realize that gambling and clean, honest government cannot exist side by side.

Shattuck's letter to this newspaper stated:

"Let me thank you for your letter of October 16, attached to which was a copy of your edition of October 13, with the open letter addressed to me and my opponent. I welcome the opportunity at all times to give my viewpoints concerning the office of Attorney General.

"If I am elected Attorney General of California the full weight of my office will be used to stamp out violations of the law.

"Where the initial responsibility lies with county officials, ample opportunity will be given such officials to perform their duties. If it were a breakdown in local law enforcement then I, as Attorney General, would perform my duty and use the full authority of my office to see that the laws are enforced.

"If you have any further questions in connection with my position I would welcome hearing from you."

In a telegram, Brown declared:

"Reference your open letter addressed to me as candidate for Attorney General:

"If I am elected Attorney General I will act under the laws establishing the Attorney General as the state's chief law enforcement officer.

"This means that I will take vigorous action against gamblers, racketeers and all other illegal operators.

"The laws against these activities are adequate and must be enforced. If local law enforcement breaks down I would act without hesitation to bring the weight of the Attorney General's law enforcement division to bear on such conditions.

"I cite my record as district attorney of San Francisco for the past seven years as conclusive evidence that I could obtain results in correcting such conditions."

People Will Have to Gamble $1 out Of Every $3 to meet Big Promises

Californians would have to gamble an average of one dollar out of every three dollars of their salaries and wages to get enough from gambling to reach the "quarter billion" tax revenue promised by the promoters of Prop. No. 6, California Taxpayers' association said today.

"It would take more than $3 billion in bets to raise the $250,000,000 so-called "tax relief" bait held out by the promoters of the vicious measure to legalize and license gambling which will be on the November 7 ballot as Prop. No. 6. Total income from salaries and wages in California during 1948 (latest data available) was $10,863,380,000," the taxpayers group pointed out.

"Gambling would seriously undermine the standard of living. Much of the $3 billion that would have to be gambled — to raise the tax revenues promised — would be drained off the earnings of the people. It would go into the maw of the professional gamblers, cutting into what would be left for food, milk, clothing, housing, and the other necessities of life.

"The 'great expectation' from Prop. No. 6 is profits for the syndicates which would control gambling — not any tax relief for the people of California, and certainly not any more assistance for the needy," the Taxpayers' association declared, urging a whopping big NO vote on Prop. No. 6 on November 7.

Contra Costa, Alameda Medics Combine

Contra Costa County citizens will soon receive the same benefits developed under the Alameda County Medical Association's public service progrom, Dr. Melvin C. Bolander, president of the Contra Costa Medical Society, has announced.

"Final arrangements for the amalgamation of the Contra Costa Medical Society's 150 doctors with the Alameda County Medical Association have been completed," Dr. Bolander said.

"Within a short time, we hope to have operating in our county the facilities necessary to implement the ACMA's famous guarantee of 'Medical Care for All—Regardless' together with the many other services the ACMA provides the Alameda County public."

Some of the services that can now be provided by Contra Costa physicians through the enlarged organization are: (1) Twenty-four hour physicians' telephone coverage in each community to provide doctors in family emergencies; (2) a committee which will assist patients in cases of excessive fees or other practices harmful to the public; (3) a ready-to-function organization to operate in the event of a major catastrophe; (4) help in any medical care problem of any kind through the facilities and committees now operated by the ACMA; (5) education of the public in the values of voluntary insurance against the costs of sickness, but to guarantee the services of doctors to everyone regardless of inability to pay or any other consideration.

Dr. Eric Reynolds, ACMA president, stated that the 1,230 members of the combined organization, which will be renamed "Alameda-Contra Costa Medical Association," will now provide medical care as well as its public service facilities to more than one million East Bay residents.

Lions Hear Talk On Civil Defense

Oakland Junior Chamber of Commerce member Haller addressed the Lafayette Lions Club on the civilian defense setup in Oakland at the dinner meeting held at El Nido Tuesday evening.

Initiation of Clifton Brooks as a new Lafayette Lions Club member was a feature of the session.

J.C. Offers Course in Salesmanship

In cooperation with the retail merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce the Contra Costa Junior College West Campus in Richmond began a five-meeting course in retail salesmanship last Thursday evening at the Family Life Center at Fourth and Nevin Streets.

Taught by Barbara Osborne, sales training specialist on the college faculty, the course meets on successive weeks through November 16.

Specifically designed to improve the efficiency of all people engaged in retail merchandising, the course will cover such topics as selling one's self, knowing the customer and the merchandise, meeting customer objections, closing sales and increasing sales volume.

Like the courses in dressmaking and personal development offered at the Family Life Center by the college, the salesmanship instruction will be free. Classes will start at 7:30 and continue for two hours.

Tonight: Dons, Bulldogs Seek First Win

The Acalanes Dons travel to Alhambra High of Martinez tonight, and both elevens will be out for their initial wins. Each dropped its first two league encounters.

Kickoff time at the Alhambra field is 8 p.m.

The Dons dropped their opener 40-6 to Pittsburg and played bang-up ball last week only to fall in the fourth quarter by a 33-6 score.

ALHAMBRA'S BAD LUCK

Alhambra was smothered in their opener 30-7 against Diablo and took the count from a rejuvenated Antioch 20-0 last week.

One important factor in the Antioch game was that several first stringers were on the bench due to injuries. Chances are that Alhambra will present a full eleven tonight against the Blue and White of Acalanes.

CAN BE TOUGH

Alhambra was impressive in early season and appears capable of tough ball when all hands are ready to go.

In Jack Bush they have a rough and ready quarterback who is a top runner as well as passer.

SPLIT T

Coach Jake Ferguson is in his first season at Alhambra and has installed a split T which finds the quarter packing the pigskin when the occasion presents itself.

Then Bush may pass, run or handoff, which presents defensive problems.

FLASHY END

In Ronnie Borgeron, Alhambra's Bulldogs have a flashy end who can get mighty pesky at times, particularly with his pass catching.

Bud Dodge is a 195-pound fullback who loves to tote the ball and hits hard.

DONS IMPROVING

The Dons appear to be improving with each game and could upset Alhambra's applecart for the third time this season in league play.

Joie Pearson is one of the better runners in the league and Ken Green looks better each time out, particularly in the aerial department. If he throws just a bit faster and cuts down on interceptions, Alhambra could have its hands full.

HARD-RUNNING BACK

Bob Winkenbach shone on defense last week against Diablo and has proven to be a hard-running back.

Ed Greub at fullback has been off his feed due to a touch of "flu" but appears to be back in the groove and rarin' to go.

AT ENDS

Darrell Crossman and Dan Daniels appear to have won the end starting positions, while John Bowron seems to be ready at left tackle.

Bob Borghesani or Richard Ting look like an even bet at right tackle.

LOOKS LIKE TOSSUP

Both elevens have as yet to taste victory in league circles, and tonight's game looks to be a tossup, with any edge going to Alhambra, due to experience.

The Dons have gained a great deal of experience the past five games and should be ready to mould into a consistent unit.

At times they have been brilliant only to fade in the home stretch.

Here Is Your Sportsmen's Calendar

The Division of Fish and Game reminds California sportsmen of the following general regulations which apply to current hunting and fishing.

DUCKS, GEESE, WATERFOWL — October 20 to November 10, and December 15 to January 5, except along Colorado River, where season extends from November 12 to January 5. Bag and possession limits: six ducks; six geese; 15 mudhens; 25 morgansers. No more than one wood duck and two Canada geese may be possessed. Shooting hours: Noon to one hour before sunset on opening days, starts at one-half hour before sunrise otherwise.

BEARS — Ends December 31. Bag limit: one bear per season. No trapping permitted.

BRUSH AND COTTONTAIL RABBITS — Ends December 31 in Districts 22, 4, 4-1/8, and 4¾; November 18 to December 15 in District 1¾; November 18 to December 31 in balance of state. Bag and possession limits: four per day.

JACK RABBITS — Ends December 31 in Southern California Districts 4, 4-1/8, 4¾, 19, 20 and 22. No closed season in balance of State. No bag limit.

TROUT — Ends October 31. Bag limit: 15 trout, salmon, or Rocky Mountain white fish, but not more than 10 pounds and one fish. Local exceptions.

BLACK BASS, SUNFISH, SACRAMENTO PERCH, CRAPPIE — Ends February 28 in all counties north of Mono, Madera, Fresno, Kings, and San Luis Obispo. No closed season elsewhere or in Clear Lake. Bag limits: 5 black bass, 25 sunfish, crappie, perch. Local exceptions. No size limits.

STRIPED BASS — No closed season. Bag limit: 5 fish or 25 pounds and one fish, or 2 fish regardless of weight. Minimum size limit: 12 inches.

OCEAN FISH — No closed season on the following species (bag limit included): 15 rockfish; 2 marlin; 2 black sea bass; 3 salmon; 2 broadbill swordfish; 10 tuna, croker, skipjack, albacore, barracuda, yellowtail, white sea bass, bonito, rock bass, kelp bass, corbina, halibut, ling cod and cabezone. No limit other species.

CLAMS — Ends April 30 in Humboldt and Monterey Bay areas. No closed season elsewhere. Bag limits: 30 razor, 10 big neck; 10 Pismo; 10 Washington. No limit on Jack knife clams.

COCKLES — Ends April 30 in counties north of San Luis Obispo County. No closed season elsewhere. Bag limit: 50. Minimum size limit: one and one-half inches in diameter.

SCALLOPS — No closed season. Bag limit: 50. Minimum size limit: two inches in diameter.

Former Acalanes Dons Doing O.K. On College Grids

Our scouts report that former Acalanes players are doing O.K. at various schools of higher learning, as far as athletic endeavor is concerned.

That in turn means that they are doing all right academically or they wouldn't be eligible.

AT J.C.

Ed Bill and Orlando Chiavini continue to hold down the tackle spots at Contra Costa J.C., while Bob Ferro operates at end.

Ken Jones is showing to advantage and was one of the brighter backfield lights in last week's game.

POLY WINGMAN

Dick Laney is a first string wingman at San Luis Obispo Poly and is drawing high praise for his end play.

Dick was definitely one of the better ends in last year's C.C.H.S.-A.L., and only an early season injury kept him from All-County honors.

FIRST STRING GUARD

George Cockerton is first string guard at Oregon State and is doing a bang-up job, while Pete Larmer is at the top of the list as a fullback for the Stanford Frosh.

Bill Hampton is also at San Luis as an end.

State Fish-Game Division to Ask Record Budget

A record high Division of Fish and Game budget of $6,612,128 for the 1951-52 fiscal year has been approved by the California Fish and Game Commission for presentation to the Legislature in January.

The proposed expenditures for fish and wildlife conservation will be reviewed by the Department of Finance at a public hearing November 8 in the State Capitol.

SURPLUS FUNDS

The increase of $528,932 over 1950-51 expenditures will come from the Division's surplus funds. Estimated income from law violation fines and sale of hunting and fishing licenses will add up to $5,632,485 in the coming fiscal year.

Greatest share of the new budget allocations went to the Bureau of Patrol and Law Enforcement. With 24.5 per cent of the total, the State's wardens will use $1,627,289 during the 12-month period.

CONSERVATION

The Bureau of Fish Conservation will spend $1,516,720, or 22.8 per cent. A total of $1,427,631 was allocated to the Bureau of Game Conservation, accounting for 21.5 per cent of the Division's annual expense.

Other self-supported activities provided in the new budget include: Administration, $458,117, 6.9 per cent; Bureau of Licenses, $156,850, 2.4; information and conservation education, $151,589, 2.3; contributions to the State Employess Retirement Fund, $349,116, 5.2.

Plan New Lights For Dons' Field

Plans are underway to install new globes in the lights of Acalanes Memorial Field come next season.

The bulbs are a recent development and give considerably more light than the present type, which were purchased at the close of the war.

OVER 25% MORE LIGHT

The new bulbs are capable of an increase in light output of a minimum of 25 per cent.

The increase will be even greater over present lighting due to the fact that the bulbs have been burning a good many hours, and usage decreases the light output.

RUBBER MARKERS

Among the newer additions to the Acalanes gridiron are some rubber sideline markers which plainly designate the yardage on each side of the field.

In the past cardboard has been used. This has not proved satisfactory, especially when hit by players or wet by rain.

The new signs are attractive and durable and provide a means of increasing spectator enjoyment.

3 Games Left Before Season Closes— Will Dons Win in One-Two-Three Spurt?

By COACH ERWIN MATTSON

THE HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL season is drawing to a close, with the final game set for Friday, November 10.

John Swett of Crockett will be the opponent and the setting will be Acalanes Memorial Field.

It is difficult to realize that the 1950 season is about at an end and that but a few precious hours of practice remain.

THE SEASON has been an interesting one despite the unimpressive record as far as scores go.

The season has given many players a fine background, and the undergraduates will have a good foundation on which to build for the 1951 season.

IN MANY of the games to date the squad has just been a shade off of being tops. Brilliant in spots they have made mistakes that hurt when it counted most.

It will be interesting to see how well they can bounce back in their final three games.

Alhambra, Antioch and Crockett present formidable elevens on successive Fridays but it is not out of the realm of possibility for the Dons to cop all three.

Improved line play and a come-through defensive job on the part of backs could throw the Blue and White machine into high gear in short order.

SPEAKING OF TRADITION, in the early days of Acalanes it was customary to have the teams get together after games for a bottle of milk and a sandwich or doughnut. In most cases it was all three!

The most important part, however, was that players and coaches met on a social basis, even if but for a short period.

True, such an affair took a certain amount of preparation, and some expense was involved. The end result, however, was well worth the time and effort expended.

Players found out that the other fellow wasn't such a bad guy after all, and this resulted in fine relationships.

A LEAGUE RULING threw the practice out, largely because some held it was too much trouble.

I could be wrong but to me it seems that such a practice does much toward furthering the idealistic claims of the advocates of athletic play and the result is worth the effort entailed.

School spirit and good, clean rivalry are important factors in the makeup of any school. In general, schools can stand more of each.

Amazing Number Of Californians Fish and Hunt

The report of the State Fish and Game Commission showing 1,470,000 Californians hold fishing and hunting licenses not only is astonishing but also gives proof of what has been said many times; namely, that these sports represent big business.

The cost of the license, of course is just a bare start. And when the expense of equipment, transportation, etc., is taken into consideration, the figure runs into amazing proportions.

In fact, fish and game experts estimate $1,000,000,000 would not be out of line. There are several ways to substantiate this total. But give $1,000,000,000 or so and the figure is still an enormous one.

Once More Prof. Soss Sails Into Very Rough Seas

It was a rough week, with upsets the order of the day but Ol' Professor Soss Opple did hit one on the nose in the Gaels, who seem to have a jinx on Oregon regardless of the so-called odds against them.

The Gaels meet tough opposition this week in Cal's Golden Bears, who plod along and seem to rise up on their haunches just long enough to win.

LOOKS LIKE BEARS

The Gaels are bound to be fired up for this traditional, but the Bears appear to be ready for another win, on the basis of sheer manpower alone.

The toughie of the week finds Washington meeting up with the once mighty and still dangerous Indian of Stanford. It's Stanford in a win after a rough-tough go.

U.S.F. appears as a winner over Fordham, while Santa Clara wins from Marquette. (Hope that's not just wishful thinking!)

POOR MINNESOTA!

Michigan takes a Minnesota that appears to have lost all team morale.

Michigan State to take Notre Dame.

Southern California over Oregon — and how, after an upset by Navy last week!

Northwestern over Wisconsin, and Pennsylvania over Navy, which gave its all against U.S.C.

HIGH SCHOOL PICKS

In the high school circles it's Pittsburg over Antioch, Diablo over Crockett and Acalanes over Alhambra.

It's been so rough picking the last two weeks that anything from here on in is an improvement. Check this week's picks and see the old percentage go up!

P.S. to Jack Hageman: No use picking the pros because, as in pro wrestling, it's hard to know whose turn it is to win this week!

Asks Continuation Of Child Centers

Rear Admiral M. L. Royar, commanding officer of the Oakland Naval Supply Center, has urged continuation of child care centers in a letter to Assemblyman Robert L. Condon.

Admiral Royar pointed out that 2,500 women, many of whom have small children, are employed at the Naval Supply Center.

He stated, "The Center is faced with the loss of these employees unless some provision can be made for their children."

Condon, in his reply, assured Admiral Royar of his support for the Navy's position.

Devils Had to Get Plenty Hot Before They Could Down Determined Dons 33-8

The Acalanes Dons gave the Diablo Red Devils a run of it for three quarters last Friday night, when the Red Machine sputtered and stalled before getting into high gear in the final quarter and winning, 33-8.

The game was played on Acalanes Memorial Field before a capacity crowd of 3,000 fans who got their money's worth in the pigskin sport.

COME BACK FIGHTING

The game found the Diablo eleven scoring in the first quarter only to have the Dons come back fighting and end up with a safety when Roger Linn threw fullback Paul Johnson in the end zone on an attempted end run.

The Dons threatened not long after when they reached the 20 only to have Diablo score with a desperation pass with but five seconds to go at the half-way mark.

40-YARD MARCH

In the third period the Dons tallied after a 40-yard march, with Joie Pearson crashing over from two yards out to make the score 14-8, where it remained until the fatal fourth quarter.

In the final period the Dons opened with a barrage of passes, only to have them backfire as Diablo intercepted and in short order ran up the final 33-8 count.

CO-CAPTAINS

Gary DeAngelis played a bangup game in his first start at center. He was co-captain with Buzz Williams, who looks to be one of the county's better guards in all-around play.

Joie Pearson, Ken Green and Bob Wikenbach were standouts in the Acalanes backfield, while John Bowron did yeoman duty at left tackle.

END PLAY

Darrell Crossman, Dan Daniels, and Roger Linn were particularly effective in their end play.

The game was one which found Acalanes coming close to an upset but forced to take chances when they got behind, and Diablo capitalized on the breaks as they came.

The win left Diablo undefeated, with two on the right side of the ledger, while the Dons have two losses.

No Place to Shoot Ducks? State Has 11 Areas for Unattached Hunters

No place to shoot during this year's waterfowl hunting seasons?

California's "unattached" duck hunters — who make up a majority of the 169,000 hunting stamp buyers — have been invited by the Division of Fish and Game to try their luck on one of the State's 11 public shooting grounds.

FREE AREAS

With the first half of a split waterfowl hunting season in full swing, a total of 26,911 acres of State and Federal waterfowl management areas are open to free public shooting.

The announcement cautioned that applicants will be taking their chances of finding a place to hunt on the seven State areas, which are limited to 1150 hunters a day. There is no limit to the number of hunters allowed on the 17,000 acres of the Federal Klamath and Tule Lake areas.

HUNTING TIPS:

In the order of importance, the Division listed the following tips to the non-club hunter seeking a place to shoot:

Obtain a free printed copy of waterfowl management area regulations from a Division of Fish and Game office or license agency;

Purchase a State hunting license and a Federal duck hunting stamp;

Make plans to show up early at the registration station located near the chosen shooting area, as all are operated on a "first come, first served" basis.

Troop 204 Firt to Find 'Lost Child'

By sheer weight of numbers, Lafayette Scout Troop 204 dominated the simulated "lost child hunt" held by the scouts of the Diablo District last weekend at the base of Mt. Diablo.

This type of outing was planned by the officials in charge of the local district so as to acquaint the boys with the correct method of locating a possible lost child in territory strange to the searchers. Clues were placed at probable points where they would appear if a child were really lost and a doll was used to represent a lost child.

Although all the scouts in this district were invited to participate, the local troop, with 100 per cent attendance, had over 40 of the 95 boys present. These were split into patrols with a central headquarters.

After approximately two hours of searching, in which those present covered every foot of their assigned territory, Bill Miller of the Panther Patrol, following the lead of clues, was the first to locate the object of the hunt.

Immediately following this part of the program the scouts were presented with a short talk on the use and care of firearms by Ray Van Tassell. Ian McLaughlin gave a brief synopsis of the part that Boy Scouts will be expected to play in case of a national emergency.

Highway Group Meets in Martinez

The highway committee of the Contra Costa Development Association met yesterday at 7:30 p.m. at association headquarters, Martinez, to consider highway recommendations to be submitted to the Board of Supervisors.

"In arriving at conclusions the committee had the written and oral statements submitted by representatives of all sections of the county at eight public meeting," Chairman Joseph L. Judson of Pittsburg said.

Judson stressed that the sphere of the association committee is advisory only and that it looks at the problem from a countywide standpoint, without any consideration of any purely local interest.

"Determinations will be based solely upon fact and upon judgment" Judson said.

The committee's findings can have some importance, inasmuch as the Board of Supervisors has indicated consideration of re-submission of a highway bond issue proposal to the people.

In addition to Judson the members from this area are: W. U. Barnes, Moraga; Harvey B. Lyon, Lafayette; Captain A. G. Sanford, Lafayette, and Col. C. J. Herman, Lafayette.

Sermon on 'Why I'm a Lutheran' Sunday Morning

It will be 433 years ago on Tuesday, October 31, since Martin Luther nailed his Ninety-Five Theses on the door of the cathedral in Wittenberg, Germany, and thus began the Protestant Reformation.

At the 10:45 a.m. service Sunday, Pastor Luther Berven of Our Savior's Lutheran Church will preach on the sermon topic, "Why I am a Lutheran." He will use as his text, Romans 1:17: "The righteous shall live by faith."

Sunday school meets at 9:30 a.m.

The women of the church will hold a rummage sale at the Coast Counties Gas and Electric Company building in Walnut Creek on Friday and Saturday, November 3-4. Mrs. Abbott Roberts is chairman of this event.

A Junior Luther League has been organized with the following officers: Lowell Cheldahl, president; Carol Fletcher, vice president; Joan Anderson, secretary; Rose Mary Sheldahl, treasurer; Jean Anderson and Terry Michna,, program committee.

Fly to Chicago for Funeral of Raskob

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Raskob flew to Chicago to attend the funeral of Raskob's famous father, long associated with the General Electric Company.

ON-JOB STUDY DOWN

The number of veterans training on-the-job under the GI Bill and Public Law 16 has been declining for the past three and one-half years, dropping from a peak of 720,500 in January, 1947, to a new low of 214,000 at the end of August, 1950.

Schools Visited By H.S. Faculty

The Acalanes faculty observed "Visiting Day" Monday as a part of their yearly institute program. Teachers spent the day visiting other high schools.

This year more than 30 high schools from Monterey to Roseville in the northern part of the state were chosen by the Acalanes faculty for their institute work. Schools on the Peninsula and in the North and East Bay regions were also visited.

Responsibility Sermon Theme at Methodist Church

Too many meetings, too many things going on, too many nights away from the family? At what point do we decide upon our responsibility in our various group relationships?

At the Community Methodist Church Sunday the sermon will ask the question, "Can you assume responsibility?"

This Sunday is Reformation Sunday. Homage will be paid to Martin Luther and all the other saints responsible for the Protestant branch of the church.

Sunday is also Girl Scout Sunday, and the church is participatin in Girl Scout Week.

There will be graded Church School classes meeting at 9:45 (an adult class is included). Morning worship is at 11. Methodist Youth Fellowship meets at [illegible] p.m.

Bishop Karl Block Tells Orindans Plans for Local Episcopal Church

Nearly 75 persons who are interested in the establishment of the Episcopal Church in Orinda attended the potluck supper given last night at the Highland Court home of Mr. and Mrs. William Sparling.

Residents who have been active in the campaign to inaugurate Episcopal services here, the first of which was held October 15, and those who have expressed an interest in the movement were guests at the affair.

The Rt. Rev. Karl Block, Bishop of the Northern California Diocese, addressed the group on future plans of the Orinda Episcopal Church.

Other honored guests were the Rev. John Geene, rector of the Orinda Episcopal Church; the Rev. Henry Praed, the Rev. and Mrs. David Graham of St. Paul's in Walnut Creek and the Rev. and and Mrs. Henry Thomas of St. Clement's in Berkeley.

Mrs. Robert Moorehead was in charge of arrangements for this affair, assisted by ladies of the congregation.

Special church services honoring National Girl Scout Week are planned for Sunday morning at the Scout Hut on Orinda Park Pool property. Boy Scouts and Cubs of the Orinda area have been invited to attend, as well as local Girl Scouts and Brownies. All scouts are asked to attend in uniform.

Mrs. Paul Slattery is in charge of the Altar Guild, which is making arrangements to purchase permanent appointments for the Orinda Episcopal Church.

Over 150 Students Rehearse for Big Acalanes Variety Show Nov. 17th - 18th

According to Acalanes student officers, Acalanes students are preparing one of the biggest all-student entertainment projects in the school's history, a variety show, "Shore Leave," slated for the Don gym November 17 and 18.

The show will be staged through the combined efforts of the school's Modern Dance Group, the Dramatics Club, the Band and many other students who have individually volunteered their services.

Auditions and rehearsals under the direction of faculty members Miss Millicent Hamburger, Mrs. Margaret Mahler and Richard Nesbitt got underway last week.

A cast of more than 150 students is busy rehearsing, making costumes and sets and planning advertising.

The show "Shore Leave" will be centered around a nautical theme highlighting the adventures of some Waves and gobs on leave in different ports of the world.

Entirely original in its production, the plot was written by Miss Hamburger and Mrs. Mahler, and some of the libretto and music is being done by students in the cast.

Child Therapy Chapters Plan Two Meetings

The first regular meeting of the two Orinda chapters of the Mt. Diablo Child Therapy Center will be held November 8.

At this meeting the chapters will choose their names, elect their officers and plan their activities. The afternoon group will meet at 12:30 for dessert at the home of Mrs. J. B. Wasson, 20 Los Arboles, Orinda. The evening meeting will be for dessert at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. Donald Hunter ,20 Sunrise Hill. This is an important meeting and it is hoped all members will be present.

Las Lomas Will Be Name of New H.S.– High Costs Curtail Construction Plans

In keeping with the Spanish motif set by the name Acalanes, Acalanes Board members have chosen Las Lomas, "The Hills," as the name of the new high school being planned south of Walnut Creek on the Danville Highway.

Haas and Rothschild Contractors of San Francisco have been awarded the building contract; construction will start next week.

PLANS CURTAILED

Because of increased costs, building plans for initial construction in the new school have been curtailed. Scheduled to be completed by September 1 of next year are two classroom wings, a gymnasium and complete site preparation, including installation of utilities.

The two class wings will house special and regular classrooms, and will be equipped to handle home economics, laboratory, commercial and general shop classes. School officials believe the construction planned will be more than adequate for initial enrollment.

HIGH COSTS

High costs have caused the board to eliminate for a while construction of an additional wing which was to have contained administrative offices, a library, study hall and classrooms.

Cost of the new buildings now being planned will run approximately $500,000. The board had originally planned to spend over $600,000 on initial plan construction. However, it has decided to keep $100,000 available for future use as it seems practicable.

According to Superintendent Neil M. Parsons, the board will order furnishings and furniture for the new plant soon.

Acalanes Accepts 2 Bus Buildings

Acalanes School Board has accepted two new bus storage and maintenance buildings recently completed for the school district by McCleary Davis Company. The new construction cost $17,000, according to Carl Newbury, clerk of the board.

Facilities include a maintenance garage, general storage space for school equipment and bus storage areas. The buildings and adjoining pavement are surrounded by wire fence.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"The way of the Lord is strength to the upright: but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquity." This verse from Proverbs (10:29) will be the Golden Text for the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon on "Everlasting Punishment" to be read this Sunday, October 29, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist.

Included among other citations from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, comprising the sermon, will be the following:

Psalm 103:2, 3: "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases."

Science and Health: "It is easier for Christianity to cast out sickness than sin, for the sick are more willing to part with pain than are sinners to give up the sinful, so-called pleasure of the senses. The Christian can prove this to-day as readily as it was proved centuries ago" (p. 138).

Girl Scouts To Be Guests at Service

With Orinda Girl Scouts as guests the congregation of Orinda Community Church will worship Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in observance of Reformation Day.

Assisted by the choir and youth assistant C. Ray Fowler Rev. Fred Morrow will conduct worship and deliver the sermon on "Our Heritage." Margaret Popovich directs the choir and Virginia Baker will return to the console of the memorial organ.

Students of all public school grades and those of pre-school age starting with age four will be given instruction in worship and Bible at 9:30 Sunday morning. At 7 p.m. there will be a regular meeting of the high school age Fellowship.

Rev. Matthews, Guest Preacher, Plans 4 Missions

During the month of November Orinda Community Church will hold a Fall Preaching Mission with the Rev. Godfrey Matthews as guest preacher, it is announced by the church diaconate sponsoring the special series.

Theme for the four evening missions is announced as "Toward a Portrait of Christ."

In setting up this series the minister, Rev. Fred Morrow, and the church officers have been encouraged by response to Lenten services held in the Spring, when it was found many Orinda people are interested in an evening program of limited duration and unusual character.

In addition to the exceptional gifts of the Rev. Mr. Matthews as reader and speaker, the mission will present a popular hymn song-fest and special music each evening. It will of course be cordially open to all comers.

Teachers Visit Other Schools

Teachers Institute Day on Monday was designated as a visiting period when faculty members of the Acalanes High School District attended classrooms in schools in this and other counties to see demonstrations of practical methods and to get new ideas for possible application to their own classes. Staffs fo the Lafayette and Orinda School Districts participated.

This annual occasion when teachers may visit schools of their choice to observe the work done there has proved popular as it gives them the opportunity to compare teaching methods and evaluate their own work and to see how common problems are dealt with in other schools.

Regular classes were resumed Tuesday morning.

East Bay Stanford Mothers Will Hold Indian Summer Luncheon Next Tuesday

The Stanford Mothers of the East Bay have completed plans for their Indian Summer luncheon and first general membership meeting of the year, to be held at noon next Tuesday at the Art and Garden Center, Walnut Creek. Mrs. Edward Larmer of Lafayette is general party chairman of the event, assisted by Mrs. Dwight Chapman of Orinda.

This "get-togther" party is held each autumn so that all mothers of Stanford students registered from the East Bay may become better acquainted. This fast-growing East Bay group includes representatives from Lafayette, Orinda, Walnut Creek, Berkeley, Alameda, Oakland, Albany, Piedmont, Concord, Danville, Livermore, Richmond and Pinole.

CLOSER RELATIONSHIPS

Policy of this group, states Mrs. Edgar H. Buttner, president, is "to bring the parents into closer relationship with the university." This is accomplished in part by having faculty members, university officials and campus leaders speak at meetings. Choral, dance and athletic groups from the Farm have also performed for the parents. The Stanford Mothers will give continued support to the Men's and Women's Rest Homes on the campus and to the Student Aid Fund.

Dr. H. Donald Winbigler, dean of students, will interpret Stanford to the mothers at Tuesday's fall luncheon. He will be introduced by vice-president and program chairman Mrs. Fred H. Warnecke. Campus guests will be Mrs. E. W. Lamb, president, Mothers' Club of Stanford, and Mrs. H. Donald Winbigler.

Mrs. Buttner will conduct a short business meeting.

COMMITTEE HEADS

Committee chairmen include Mrs. Wallace E. Breuner, reservations; Mrs. John W. Otterson, hostesses; Mrs. Frederick Dall, decorations; Mrs. Ralph S. Walker and Mrs. Merrill Reynolds, publicity; Mrs. Fred Ingram, table arrangements, and Mrs. Ronald B. Slater, notices.

Many Contra Costa County members will attend. These include Mrs. Theodore Lassagne of Lafayette Mrs. George W. Sondag, Mrs. O. J Wohlgemuth; Mrs. Richard Breuner of Orinda, Mrs. William B. Freeman of Lafayette, Mrs. E. A. Beck Mrs. Arthur H. Beede, Mrs. William Maddock, Mrs. Solomon Weil, Mrs. E. M. Townsend and Mrs. C. T. Butler.

Glenside Group Meets

Regular meeting of the Glenside Improvement Association was held Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Deitrick, 725 Los Palos Drive.

Dazzling Fashions Shown at Benefit

By MAURINE WHITE

Claremont Hotel in Berkeley last Friday was the scene of a luncheon and benefit show where fashions as dazzling as any yet seen this season were displayed through the sponsorship of the Women's Auxiliary of the Alameda County Medical Association.

John Mouber of San Francisco commentated his own show, while credit goes to Miss Jacqueline Wright, his assistant, for the staging.

NEW YORK HOUSES

Clothes were from the finest New York houses: Pattullo, Maurice Rentner, Adele Simpson, to name a few.

Something new in materials was the checked Charmine gabardine with the pattern woven in, not printed, while top fashion this season is the strapless top or halter-top dresses with jackets. Straight skirts, featuring the pencil-line, are on all suits, and coats are reversible for the last word in style.

HATS, FURS

Hats by Kenneth Hopkins, exclusive with Mouber, featured the "Pixie-point," "Fisherman's Storm" and the new straw mesh visor styles along with long-napped Melusine in lovely bright colors.

Luxurious furs, all natural (nothing dyed) of ranch mink, wild mink, pastel mink, sable and martin skins were among the creations which awed the room-packed attendance.

PROCEEDS

Mrs. Alfred Boles, president of the auxiliary, announced that proceeds of the day would be divided among many good causes such as Community Chest, Red Cross and a student fund for juniors and seniors of the Medical School.

Credit for the success of the day was given Joan Holstein for her excellent choice of the San Francisco house of John Mouber.

School Employees Sign Loyalty Oath

All certified personnel and employees of Orinda Union School District signed the new California loyalty oath last week, Superintendent Joseph L. Sheaff reports.

Architect Jack Buchter gave his assistance in the program by sending his secretary to the school to notarize the affidavits.

By BERT WRIGHT

What is soil?

I like this simple definition: "Soil is any medium that will support plant growth," while "dirt" is any useless material causing undesirable grime.

Now, what percentage of American yards have "soil" in them and what percentage contain only "dirt"?

In too many residential areas, the original topsoil was scraped off and sold, or else mixed with the underlying infertile material when the lot was graded. As a result many would-be gardeners are confronted with nothing but "dirt" on which to grow lawns and gardens. It's an extraordinary sand or clay fill that will support a garden worthy of the name. Low in plant nutrients, devoid of organic matter, and possessing a texture that is either too heavy or too light, the raw subsoil is a dirt—and that is about all.

TIME AND LABOR

But making garden good soil out of plain old dirt can be done—though it requires both time and labor. But when your garden blooms and the grass grows vigorously you can think back to the days when the yard was a barren wasteland and rejoice!

The least laborious, but most expensive, way to get soil is to buy it. However, the prices charged for to the new home owner, who usually has plenty of other costs to worry about. And unscrupulous individuals in the topsoil business have foisted off some very poor "soil" on uninitiated home owners.

If the subsoil fill in the yard is sandy the main problem will be to build up the organic matter in order to increase its water holding capacity.

CLAY PROBLEM

Clay presents a different problem—one of opening it up, decreasing the cloddiness and increasing granulation so that roots can penetrate and water will drain out.

Incorporating enough organic matter to accomplish this is a practical impossibility, except in small areas such as flower beds. It is far more practical to "cut" the clay with sand or sifted coal ashes. This is best accomplished by spading, discing or roto-tilling into the soil a layer of sand or ashes, not less than three inches thick.

Incorporation of any smaller amount will be wasted effort. If, at the same time, some peat, compost or other organic matter can be included, so much the better.

IMPROVE FERTILITY

But in improving the physical condition of subsoil materials we have done little to improve the fertility.

True, organic matter provides a small amount of nutrients, but the sand and ashes are "blanks" as far as their nutrient content is concerned. So the final step in making "soil" out of mere "dirt" is to provide nutrients.

Give the entire yard a good thorough application of a complete plant food, at the rate of 3 pounds per 100 square feet. You can broadcast the plant food over the surface prior to working in the organic matter, sand or ashes.

In years to come it will be necessary to maintain your soil just as good farmers manage their. Winter cover crops on the vegetable patch, compost spaded into the flower beds and regular feeding of lawn and garden are all good management practices that will keep new made soil from becoming "dirt."

EXPENSIVE REPAIRS

Many expensive repair jobs on automobile motors are a result of driving with insufficient oil in the crankcase, warns the California State Automobile Association.

ON-FARM TRAINING

Institutional on-farm training for veterans, which reached a peak of 362,000 trainees in May, dropped to 356,000 enrollees August 30.

Diamond K Sez . . .

THE RAINS ARE HERE again and without a doubt many of you have been caught unprepared.

These light rains are sometimes fortunate because they allow you time to figure out your drainage problems before they become serious. Those of you who discovered puddles standing around after the first rain should think about alleviating them before the heavier rains.

When you find a spot or section of poor drainage, first of all, figure out where the natural drainage should go. Then, dig a trench from the area you want drained to where you want it to go. Then fill the trench with at least two inches of drain rock. The drain rock should be a layer at least two inches deep

Proceed to lay your drain tile on top of the drain rock allowing for and setting the pitch for drainage.

Next cover the tile with another layer of drain rock and cover the ditch with a layer of tar paper. When this is completed, replace the dirt on top of the paper and tamp down firmly. This will end your drainage problem.

DRAIN TILE is available in three and four inch diameters and Diamond K stands ready, as always, to furnish you with all the material to do this job. Drop in and talk over your individual problem with us.

Over 40 Kinds of African Violets Viewed at Show

The annual open house and African Violet show at Orchard Nursery brought many entries and thousands of interested spectators who visited the exhibits that were on display for two days. Among winners were Mrs. Lilly of Orinda and Mrs. Cohn, Mrs. Mainwaring, Mrs. Steinbach and Mrs. Fitz of Lafayette.

With more than 40 varities displayed by Mr. E. H. Thomas of Saranap and Mrs. Constance Hansen of Lafayette, the show exhibited plants never before seen by the public. Among unusual varieties were the new Dupont Hybrids and ruffled novelties.

Sweepstakes winners in the amateur displays were Miss Yerrington of Berkeley, first; Mrs. Wroobel of Berekeley, second; Mrs. Hennington of Piedmont, third.

Other winners included Mrs. McPherson of Oakland, Mrs. Frickstad, Mrs. Hoerr and Mrs. Newlon of Berkeley and Mrs. Quinn of Walnut Creek.

Chrysanthemum Display Is Open

The sixth annual Chrysanthemum Show sponsored by the Oakland Park Department opened in the Lakeside Park Nursery Gardens Sunday, according to Ernest A. Rossi, park board director.

"Over 6,000 of the colorful chrysanthemum plants have been prepared for display under the supervision of Robert J. Ammerman, head nurseryman," Rossi stated. "All of the known varieties will be on exhibition, with a special showing of cascade plants."

Dr. Arthur Jensen Speaks to Nursery School Mothers

By MRS. RITCHIE SMITH

Limit the "treats" and see that the kids brush their teeth twice a day was Dr. Arthur Jensen's advice to the mothers of The Orinda Nursery School at the first fall meeting October 11.

His subject "Dental Health for Children" was one of much interest to all the mothers. Dr. Jensen is associated with the University of California Dental College in the Clinical Investigation and Research Department.

BRINGS OUT FACTS

Dr. Jensen's talk brought home most forcefully the facts we already know but at times have so easily overlooked. Tests performed among children of average and upper bracket income families have had appalling results with no group averaging less than nine cavities per child. The most effective way to prevent tooth decay says Dr. Jensen is to cut down as much as possible those cherished treats, candy, cake, cookies, gum and carbonated sweetened beverages. Recognizing that these goodies cannot be entirely eliminated from our children's diet, the next best attack being to start the children early on a regime of twice a day tooth brushing and to develop in the child the habit of taking water after meals and between meal snacks.

DECREASE DECAY

Tests have shown a 35 per cent decrease in tooth decay after a two year period of twice a day brushing plus rinsing the mouth with water after eating. This program of tooth care along with a normal diet of meat, eggs, fruit, milk and vegetables will go a long way towards improving the condition of our children's teeth.

Dr. Jensen also gave the mothers several hints about the preparation of vegetables, not soaking them in water, waterless cooking at low temperature and the high nutritive value of frozen fruits and vegetables.

THUMB SUCKING

The problems of thumb sucking and when to start necessary orthodenture were also discussed in the open meeting following Dr. Jensen's stimulating talk.

Following Dr. Jensen's talk the monthly business took place. Director Myrtle Patterson explained to the new mothers the organization's rules concerning visiting children, the reporting of absences and the duties of the "helping mothers."

HELPING MOTHERS

Since the school is a cooperative nursery all the mothers participate. In addition to the three directors there are four "helping mothers" at each session. Assistant Director Mrs. Wirtabel Harris explained the duties of the mothers working with the children in the outdoor play area and Assistant Director Mrs. Maxine Laney explained the indoor daily routine. The different chairmen were called upon to explain their special functions.

The meeting ended with the serving of refreshments, the hostesses for the evening were Mesdames Merrill, Price, Crawshaw, Kimball, Thurlow, Farrington, Merriam and Folliard.

STORK ..CLUB..

Born October 2 at Alta Bates hospital in Berkeley was James Ross McMillin, making the Marshall McMillin family in Lafayette a foursome. Jimmy weighed six pounds, nine ounces, and he is little brother to Pennie, aged two and a half.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Winchester wlecomed their first son and second child October 12 at Peralta Hospital in Oakland.

The young man, named Stewart Alexander, weighed six pounds, five ounces. He has joined big sister Phyllis, aged five, in a new home in Walnut Creek. Mr. Winchester is an instructor at Acalanes High School.

DeMolay Chapter Holds Dance Tomorrow Night

Las Trampas Chapter, Order of DeMolay, will hold the dance, "Midnight Rendezvous," from 8:30 to midnight tomorrow night at Acalanes High School.

Members of the dance committee are Co-chairmen Bill Reynolds and Lee Zeller, Alan Ruff, Doug Hockett, Bill Powers, Bill Truxall and Lawrence Littell.

Juliette Lowe Tea Planned For Thursday

Celebrating the birthday of the founder of the Girl Scouts, Juliette Lowe, a tea will be held at the Orinda Grammar School Thursday at 3:15. All Girl Scouts and Brownie Scouts have been invited to attend in uniform.

Mrs. Peter Veitch, chairman for the affair, has asked Mrs. William Tildsley's Glorietta Troop 35 to be the hostesses.

DECORATIONS

Mrs. J. W. Lang's Brownie Troop 86 is arranging the tea table decorations.

The flag ceremony is to be done by Mrs. L. B. Boyer's sixth grade Girl Scout troop.

SKIT PLANNED

Girls of Mrs. John Gompertz' fifth grade Girl Scout troop have prepared an entertaining skit.

Every girl attending will bring a penny for each year of her life to be dropped into the wishing-well. This same ceremony is being held at every Juliette Lowe tea throughout the United States during Girl Scout Week. The money collected is for the World Friendship Fund used to further Girl Scouting in other countries.

'Birthday' Sung At Kids' Theater

Teatro Para Ninos, sponsored by the Orinda Mothers Club, had a very successful opening last Saturday, with a record attendance. "Happy Birthday" was sung for Randay Jamison, Tommy Kirby, Hiede Von Gunther, Johnny Thurston and Susan Kendall.

Feature for tomorrow will be "Flirting with Fate," with Joe E. Brown. A cartoon and a short subject will also be shown. Parents are requested to pick up the children at 3 o'clock, for there will be no supervision after 3:15.

Hostess at Luncheon

Mrs. Henry J. Gries entertained a group of Berkeley friends at luncheon yesterday at her home in Lafayette.

Scouts, Brownies Fulfill Their Pledge

"To help other people at all times," a part of the Girl Scout pledge, is exemplified in the participation of the Brownie Scouts and Girl Scouts of Orinda.

Every troop has been active in collecting books for the soldiers at Camp Stoneman.

REPAIR TOYS

Mrs. L. B. Boyer's sixth grade Girl Scout troop is repairing toys, which they have collected, for the tubercular children at Weimar Sanatorium.

A knitted afghan is nearing completion by fourth grade Brownie Troop 58 for Oak Knoll Hospital.

A third grade Brownie troop is making scrapbooks for the Child Therapy Center in Lafayette.

The Girl Scouts of Troop 35 are busy sewing sets of doll bedding for the Orinda School kindergarten.

ADOPT FRIENDS

Two newly formed Brownie troops are "adopting" friends from Weimar Sanatorium, sending cards and gifts for their birthdays, and all special days.

"To help other people at all times" —Yes, the Orinda Brownie Scouts and Girl Scouts are fulfilling their pledge.

Trick or Treat? Yes, for Needy!

When a P.F.er rings your doorbell tomorrow, he will be asking for clothing and such articles as soap, needles and pins, instead of the usual Hallowe'en treats. These articles will be sent to needy people overseas.

Following this collecting campaign, members of the Pilgrim Fellowship will gather at the Community Church for a Hallowe'en party from 9 to 11:30.

Sunday of last week the Fellowship waxed the church floor. This was followed by a potluck supper and a regular meeting.

Patronize Hometown Merchants.

Who Started Pillow Fight?

Nine Orinda girls, all members of Girl Scout Troop 35, were invited to the home of Mrs. Kenneth St. Clair for a sleep-out October 14.

The barbecue supper and Sunday breakfast were planned, prepared and served by the girls.

Who started the pillow fight at 5 a.m.? Was it Pat Bacon, Jean Reid, Nancy St. Clair, Joanne Ross, Heather Ambler, Silvia Coffee, Lynn Pollock, Marjorie Fish or Nancy Richards?

Kenneth Gelwix Given Scholastic Award

Kenneth Gelwix, son of Kenneth Gelwix, Sr., of Orinda, a student in the air conditioning department, California State Polytechnic College, was named today to the President's Scholastic Accomplishment list. Only 262 of the 1,478 men attending the 1950 Cal Poly summer quarter qualified for the honor.

President Julian A. McPhee, in announcing the accomplishment list for the summer quarter, said that the students included on the list received an average of "B" or better

Girl Scouts Plan Original Play On Station KECC

The Orinda Grammar School sixth grade Girl Scout Troop 39 will give a radio broadcast tomorrow over Station KECC, Pittsburg.

The girls worked out their own script and announcements for the playlet "Girl Scouts Together." They will receive their radio badge as a result, according to their leader Mrs. Henry Jamison.

Troop 39 has also been asked to do the color guard for Girl Scout Sunday this week at the Orinda Community Church at 11 o'clock. This day marks the opening of Girl Scout Week all over the United States.

All Brownie Scouts and Girl Scouts throughout the world have been requested to wear their uniforms to Sunday School and to church on Girl Scout Sunday.

If you love children — yours and your neighbors' — slow down when you drive home today.

Fall Colors Mark Trip by Hights

Showers in the northern part of the state did not dampen the enthusiasm of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hight over last week's five-day motor trip, for everywhere there was a gorgeous and flamboyant display of autumn foliage.

Their trip took them to Reno, Truckee and Lake Tahoe and even to Oregon, but there the really hard rain drove them back before reaching Benbow as planned.

Doubling back and forth as they love to do, they saw the lumber mills of Susanville, Alturas and the old town of Weaverville, and Chico, the prettiest and neatest town, they thought, of Northern California. But all looked lovely and transformed with their golden-colored poplars, bright-leafed maples and aspens and glowing red dogwood.

In our neighborhoods, please drive carefully. How fast can you stop if a child runs into the street in front of your car?

Volunteers Canvass Neighborhoods For Joint Scout Finance Drive

With intensive neighborhood coverage mapped out by committee workers, an army of volunteers is canvassing the area from Diablo and Danville to Orinda during the current Boy Scout, Girl Scout Finance Campaign.

Lafayette is headed by Mrs. Ralf Maki; Orinda, Mrs. F. R. Devin; Diablo by James Kelley; Alamo by Arch Campbell; Danville by Mrs. W. T. Marsh; and Walnut Creek, Edmund Barnett.

SUMMER CAMP MONEY

High on the list of Scout programs for which the money is expended are the summer camps of which the Boy Scouts operate four. One in a local area and three in Sierra locations.

Sierra Woodland, the new Girl Scout camp opened this last summer had a most successful season and plans are alrealy on foot for extended sessions next year.

Day camps were operated for the benefit of Scouts unable to join those enjoying the fun at Sierra locations. Part of the funds used from the proceeds of the current drive will be used for camp buildings and equipment maintenance.

GREATER DEMAND

The steady growth in population throughout the area has brought an increased demand for additional troops and units. All of which must be served by professional personnel and trained leaders from the Central Headquarters of the two scout movements.

The expanded campaign goal is aimed at covering greater expenses incurred in the servicing of the tremendous increase in scouts and adult volunteers.

Planners Take Loyalty Oath

Members of the County Planning Commission, with Deputy District Attorney Matthew Walker officiating, took the new loyalty oath at their Tuesday night meeting in Martinez

The oath is now required by state law of all public employees. Although the planning commissioners do not have to take it, since they are not paid employees, they did so as a patriotic gesture.

Employees of the commission had previously taken the oath.

J.C Faculty Hears Johnson

Faculty members of Contra Costa Junior College met informally on both campuses last week with Dr. B. Lamar Johnson, director of a general education study in California junior colleges.

Dr. Johnson, who was "pleased and very impressed with the flourishing educational program" he found operating locally, met with the West Campus faculty at an informal luncheon in the college cafeteria. He then proceeded to Martinez, where he met with the East Campus staff.

HEADS STUDY GROUP

Under the auspices of the American Council of Education, Dr. Johnson is heading a one-year study of general education in state junior colleges. Financed by a Carnegie grant, the research project is being conducted by the California Association of Junior Colleges, the State Department of Education and the University of California at Los Angeles. The purpose of the survey is to evaluate progress that has already been made in general education for effective living and to determine ways and means to improve techniques in that area.

Recent regional meetings, under the direction of Dr. Johnson, who is librarian and dean of instruction at Stephens College, have been held in Sacramento and San Mateo. A large number of Contra Costa Junior College faculty members were in attendance at both meetings.

WORKSHOP

Last summer Dr. Johnson conducted a general education workshop at UCLA which was attended by Dr. Herman Chrisman, Dr. Jane Castellanos, George Johnson and Josephine Amer, all faculty members.

Poison Oak Suit Trial Underway

Dr. Joseph N. Vizzard of 70 Moraga Road and the Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley are co-defendants in a suit for $202,000 damages which was under way before a Superior Court jury this week.

Louis J. Merrill, Pleasant Hill salesman, represented by Attorneys Grace M. Wallis and Lewis Lecara, is the plaintiff.

Charging the doctor with malpractice, the plaintiff's attorney told the jury in Judge Homer W. Patterson's court in Martinez Monday that Merrill contracted a disease called Periarteritus Nodosa as the result of serum injections by Dr. Vizzard last March in treatment against poison oak.

They claimed their patient may die if he suffers a relapse in his fight against the disease, which is said to cause inflammation of the blood vessels.

Tr. 204 Mothers Change Date of Monthly Meeting

At a recent meeting of the Mothers Club of Boy Scout Troop 204 it was decided that the meeting date of the group would be changed from the fourth Thursday of every month to the third Tuesday.

The change of date was made because it conflicted with other meeting dates and therefore made it impossible for several members of the club to attend regularly.

Next meeting of the Mothers Club wil be held in the Morris Hunt Slater Cabin on November 21.

Veterans Asked To Consult Office

The experience and facilities of the Veterans Service Offices are available to those who are called to military duty as well as to those who have already served in the armed forces, residents of Contra Costa County are informed.

Inductees, and particularly reservists returning to active duty, are being urged to "do themselves and their families a favor" by registering with the Veterans Service Office some of the essential information about themselves and their dependents that may prove some day to be extremely valuable as problems arise in connection with their military service.

"They may be coping sooner than they realize with such problems as family allowance payments, reemployment rights, civil legal matters and the like," he pointed out. "In addition, they may at some future time need to present claims for compensation or pension."

Records will be maintained by the Veterans Service Offices on all persons going into service who will take the few minutes required to fill out a brief form containing th basic biographical facts.

These persons and their dependents are welcome now to any counsel and information they may require, obtainable at Room 108, Hall of Records, Martinez, and 2721 Macdonald Avenue, Richmond.

Alma Mendell Offers Instruction in Dance

Classes or individual instruction in ballroom dancing, rhythm studies, Hawaiian dancing and ballet are offered for both children and adults at the Patio Dance Center, 3676 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, by Alma Mendell.

Inviting the public to watch the instruction any Wednesday evening, the instructor stresses that a child's personality is developed through the medium of the dance.

'Miscall' Gives Gaelets Victory Over Cal Frosh

By COACH ERWIN MATTSON

Last week I witnessed the St. Mary's - Cal Frosh game, in which the officials pulled a boot of which little has been written but about which there has been plenty of discussion.

The miscall came when Cal received a kickoff from St. Mary's in the end zone.

California's safety man, Hinton, hovered over the ball, undecided, and finally picked it up and took two steps only to be tackled well back in the end zone six or more yards from the goal line.

AWARDED SAFETY

The officials miscalled the play in awarding a safety and two points to St. Mary's when it should have been called a touchback with Cal getting the ball first and 10 on the 20.

An official later justified the call by saying the ball hit a Cal player on the way into the end zone. Even so, it had no bearing on the play.

The important and deciding factor is that St. Mary's gave the ball the impetus sending it into the end zone. If the Cal man had run the ball out and then gone back into end zone to be tackled it would be a safety. The question rests on who gives the ball the impetus.

If the defensive team gives the impetus and is downed behind their goal line it is a safety and two points.

TOUCHBACK

If the offensive team does it (kicking team in the case at hand) it is a touchback, no points, and the ball goes to the 20, first and 10 yards to go .

The decision was an all-important one as but seconds remained on the clock. Cal was ahead at the time, 20-19. The referee's miscue gave St. Mary's a 21-20 win.

Referees (like players and coaches) make mistakes — in this case it was a costly one for Cal. Technically, a decision could be reversed — practically, it never will.

Virginia Macdonald Now Mrs. Filbin

Miss Virginia Macdonald and Bernard O'Neil Filbin were married in a double ring ceremony performed in the presence of both their families at All Hallows Church, Sacramento, October 14.

The bride chose a brown suit with brown velvet accessories for her wedding, accenting her costume with a corsage of orchids. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. E. L. Macdonald, Jr., wore a green dress with black velvet accessories and an orchid corsage in her matron of honor role. Frank Ferrario of Lodi was best man.

BRIDE'S MOTHER

The bride's mother, Mrs. E. L. Macdonald of Tunnel Road, donned a silver metallic afternoon dress trimmed with black velvet and wore a corsage of lavender orchids for the occasion.

Father John Maguire, a longtime family friend who has recently been transferred to the Sacramento church, read the wedding ceremony. He had also performed the marriage rites for the bride's brother, E. L. Macdonald, Jr., and the former Miss Frances Luce, a few years ago.

C.O.P. GRAD

Virginia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Macdonald, Sr. She attended Calaveras County schools and graduated from College of the Pacific, where she majored in business administration. She was employed by an Oakland bank.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Filbin of Lodi. He attended schools there before attending C.O.P., where he met his bride. He is employed at the United Pipe and Concrete Corporation in Stockton.

Following a reception at the Capitol Hotel in Sacramento, the justweds left for San Francisco and then a week's trip to Canada. Their future home will be in Lodi.

Dads Club Vallecito Night Thursday

Lafayette Dads Club has designated their meeting to be held next Thursday night at Town Hall as "Vallecito Night."

Dads of Vallecito School children are tendered a special invitation to attend, along with all Dads of children in Lafayette and Montecito Schools.

Mrs. Graylis Vossler, principal at Vallecito, and members of her faculty will attend the session. Mrs. Vossler will tell of her school's program and outline some of the future plans.

The Standard Oil Company film, "Water, Fountain of Life," will be shown as a special feature, according to Ray Stroube, publicity chairman.

Rocha, McPherson Get Their Bucks in Nevada

Bill Rocha and Mickey McPherson of Lafayette joined an Oakland friend to spend five days of deer-hunting in the Ruby District, Nevada, arriving home Wednesday night. Each hunter brought home a buck, although we hear they would have brought back larger ones if they had been willing to cut their trip shorter by getting their quarry the first day.

Roger Souza, Fiancee Visiting His Mother

Roger Souza, son of Mrs. William Souza of 3229 Glenside Drive, and his fiance, Gloria Gray of Burlingame, are visiting Mrs. Souza for a week.

Roger, who is completing his thesis for his master's degree at U. C., is on vacation, as is Miss Grey, who is a social worker in San Francisco.

Last week Roger was in Los Angeles with Miss Gray and her friend, Mrs. Helen Farzan of San Francisco.

Kids Play, Mothers Help at This School

On a recent morning at the Orinda Nursery School it seemed that a cherished tradition was about to collapse.

Could it be possible? Yes, unmistakable sounds of scolding came from the "doll corner" of the room, where several youngsters were gathered.

Investigation, however, quickly revealed that everything was O.K. The kids were merely "playing house." "Baby" was "whimpering" about something, "mama" was "scolding." And the game went merrily on.

That's the way it goes at the Orinda Nursery School, in its quarters in the Orinda Community Church Sunday School building. The youngsters have a good time, and crying is practically never heard—except when it's "pretend-crying."

In case you're wondering how 30 or 40 tots can be together for two and a half hours, or more, two or three times a week, with little fuss or squabbles, it's time to tell you something about just what the nursery school is, how it was formed, how it operates.

15 AT FIRST

Back in 1942, 15 enthusiastic mothers started the Orinda Cooperative Nursery School. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Allen came to their aid and offered the use of their guest house for the school, and their ample back yard provided a fine playground. Mrs. Mary Gibbons and Mrs. Benjamin Mallary took over the nursery school supervision of 15 eager little Orindans who are now grown-up fifth and sixth graders.

The next year Mrs. Myrtle Patterson assumed Mrs. Gibbons' job, and she is still at the helm as director of the school.

After three years at the Allens' the school was moved to the Park Pool, where it functioned for two years. From there it was transferred to the Community Church site, where it is now in its third year.

NOW THERE ARE 70!

What started out with 15 youngsters is today a recreation center for 70 children from Orinda and Lafayette.

In addition, there are some 30 pre-school youngsters on what technically is a waiting list but is called the visiting list because when any of the junior regulars are absent these hopefuls are given their opportunity to participate in the fun at this exceptionally well-equipped and well-run school.

PLAYGROUND AREA

The playground area is carefully arranged with a paved area for wheeled toys, a jungle gym, a slide, swings and a magnificent oversized sandbox.

Inside are two large rooms with play areas for building blocks, painting, doll corner—and tiny tables and chairs, scaled down for the pre-school child, a perfect world all his or her own.

Mrs. Maxine Laney joined the staff when Mrs. Mallary left for her duties at the Orinda postoffice. Mrs. Robert Antonisen supervised the younger group for a year. Now the activities of the 70 youngsters are directed by Mrs. Patterson, assisted by Mrs. Laney and Mrs. Wirtabel Harris, with the willing cooperation each day of four "helping mothers."

READ TO GROUPS

These "helping mothers" are an important factor in the smooth operation of the nursery school. Mothers of the youngsters take turns in their days at the school. As an example of their assistance, each of the four mothers on duty reads to a group of several children. Each group is in a different part of the room, and is absorbed in the reading for it, so that there is no friction with the other three groups being read to at the same time.

Here is a typical morning schedule:

9 a.m., school starts. 9 to 9:20, health inspection. 9:20 to 10:30, large muscle activity—free outside play. 10:30 to 11, toileting, stories and juice. 11 to 11:30, small muscle activity—painting, clay, etc. 11:30 to 11:45, rest and music. Around 11:30, parents pick up the younger children in the Tuesday-Thursday group. At 11:45 on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, mothers pick up the older children.

VARIETY AND SPIRIT

That's just a sort of bird's eye view of the daily program, and doesn't convey the variety, spirit and mixture of organization and spontaneity which permeates each morning.

For instance, take "music." You really have to be there to appreciate the bright-eyed kids singing . . . or the rest period, when the youngsters, seated around tables, place their heads on their folded arms and listen to soothing records played by the teacher . . . or the concentration with which the children play with building blocks or miniature trains . . . or the hoop-la enthusiasm with which they swing or bicycle outdoors.

Parents of the children have arranged a car pool, facilitating transportation to and from school.

MONTHLY MEETINGS

On the second Wednesday evening of each month the mothers attend a meeting at the school. Programs for these meetings vary, some featuring a speaker, others being devoted to workshop, still others highlighting planning or other business.

1950-51 administrative officers of the Orinda Nursery School Association, Inc., are Mrs. E. J. Unruh, president; Mrs. Thomas G. Cullen, vice president and program chairman; Mrs. Frances Seaman, secretary; Mrs. Philip Thearle, treasurer; Mesdames Stuart Henderson, Fred H. Kronke and J. M. Holley, representatives; Mesdames Frank Brush and Stewart Kimball, honorary members.

COMMITTEE HEADS

Committee chairmen are Mrs. Edward D. Pike, maintenance; Mrs. Ritchie C. Smith, publicity; Mesdames D. E. O'Neal and Floyd Dodson, membership; Mrs. Paul Polaczek, parent participation, Tuesday-Thursday; Mrs. Hugh C. Lowther, parent participation, Monday-Wednesday-Friday; Mrs. Robert Walker, telephone; Mrs. Milton Vail, purchasing.

If, after reading all this, you're still a trifle skeptical about this truly cooperative school, just take a look for yourself any weekday morning—and see how it has grown, how it's buzzing with juvenile (and adult) activity and how it's bound to grow in the future.

Typical Scenes Show Why Orinda Nursery School Has Such Popularity

VARIED ACTIVITIES of the 70 youngsters at Orinda Nursery School make the morning program one that whizzes by on wings of delight for the kids. Children from Orinda and Lafayette participate in outdoor and indoor games and in many other "doings" that range from painting to resting, all carefully supervised and organized. These pictures give you an idea of a few of the goings-on at this cooperative school, housed in the Orinda Community Church Sunday School building. At left, Jeff Wood concentrates on some new masterpiece, while Joan Derick, brush in hand, explains her latest painting to admiring Sally Hearne. Next picture shows two young men very much absorbed in what they're doing—Steven Turley, on the floor, busies himself with a miniature train and Ned Pike handles those building blocks with self-assurance. Around the table are youngsters relaxing during rest period. The lad at left in the striped shirt is Steve Shank; then, left to right, are Lorna Stahle, Joan Derick and Peter Kimball. The little miss at the extreme right was not identified, but the girl next to her, with her back to the camera, is Evelyn McCutchan. Picture at right shows a trio in the outdoor area—Steven Brush on the tricycle, Denise Cullen in the wagon and Julie Henderson obligingly pulling the wagon—SUN photos by Geri Fry

State Says 'No' To P.T.&T. Plea For Rate Hike

Stating the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company's operating results "clearly demonstrated an increasing revenue and an increasing rate of return and one in excess of 5.6 per cent," a "fair and reasonable figure," the State Public Utilities Commission ruled last week that the company is not entitled to a statewide increase in rates.

The telephone company request was dismissed by unanimous vote of the commission even before all hearings had been completed. The company immediately served notice that it will request a rehearing.

Rate hikes amounting to $30,000,000 a year, plus $6,000,000 more to offset rising federal taxes, had been asked by P.T. and T.

The company had asked increases on residence, business and coin telephone charges in order to finance expansion, cushion against recession and be prepared for possible war emergency.

The decision noted that the last day of the incompleted hearings September 29, P.T. and T. had released to newspapers a shareholders' report showing increased earnings. The report was not offered to the commission, the decision stated, although "it was the duty of the applicant."

The 11-page decision stated "when and if conditions so change that rate relief becomes necessary," P.T. and T. may file a new request "without prejudice."

Commenting on the announcement by the Public Utilities Commission discussing Pacific Telephone's application for increased rates, Mark Sullivan, president of the company, said:

"The refusal of the Public Utilities Commission to hear our application for increased rates at this time leaves the company in an impossible position to meet the public demand for more telephone service. We want to meet that demand. To do so we must get additional investment money from investors.

"We cannot raise the additional money which is absolutely necessary without the moderate increase in rates we had applied for.

"The commission, we believe, has a mutual responsibility in this matter, and we shall immediately file with the commission a petition for rehearing in order that our ability to serve the public be not impaired."

Moraga Pupils Visiting Lafayette

In an effort to promote acquaintance with the students with whom they will be attending high school next year, Lafayette Grammar School has extended an invitation to the six eighth grade boys and girls of Moraga School's graduating class to take part in their weekly club meetings.

The Moragans visit Lafayette School for the club period which is held for an hour every Friday and take part in the groups' activities.

'Attorney General Should Assure Local Law Enforcement'—Shattuck

Edward S. Shattuck candidate for Attorney General, answered the open letter which the SUN published in a recent edition during his talk at the Lafayette Veterans Memorial Building in Lafayette last Saturday night.

In explaining the importance and functions of the office, he stated that it is the duty of the Attorney General to go into any city or county and take over the enforcement of the law when he has proof of a breakdown in enforcement by local authorities.

Furthermore, he said, "it is not sufficient to make a 'quicky' raid on some corner grocery where there is a bookie or slot machine, but the law enforcement agent who is in 'cahoots' with the violators must be brought to justice as well."

NATURAL RESOURCES

Another and equally important job of the office, he said, is continuing the fight to maintain California's control over its natural resources. While in Washington during the war on the President's Committee on War Legislation and other bodies, he was struck, he said, by the lack of understanding of anyone east of the Mississippi River with the importance of our water problem.

He stated that it was the considered opinion of many people, as well as his own, that Earl Warren would retain his governorship.

ENDORSEMENTS

Arthur Carlson, former state senator and past State Central Committee chairman, spoke in endorsement of Shattuck and introduced Philip Bancroft, who added his endorsement. Jack Pedder, Contra Costa County Central Committee chairman, introduced members of the committee who were present.

Leo Armstrong, candidate for the Assembly from the 10th district, spoke briefly before the group, many of whom had heard him on the previous Wednesday night when he and his opponent, Robert L. Condon, stated their cases before the Lafayette Improvement Club.

RECEPTION

A reception followed the talk, at which Shattuck answered individual questions and talked to most everyone who had attended the meeting.

Mrs. Donn Court, president of the Lafayette Women's Republican Club, sponsors of the meeting, presided, and introduced the club's board members. Mrs. L. J. Wallis, program chairman, introduced Shattuck and closed the meeting with the assurance that the organization was firmly behind his candidacy and would, in line with his suggestion, talk up his campaign to any and all.

Scouts Hold 'Lost Child' Practice Hunt

Lafayette and Orinda Scouts along with other Scouts of the Diablo District held a mobilization practice and "lost child" hunt in the Mt. Diablo foothills above Alamo last Saturday.

Over 100 Scouts participated in this emergency preparedness training. Troops represented were: Troop 205, 209, and 217 of Pleasant Hill; Troop 214, Walnut Creek; Troop 204, Lafayette; Troop 216, Alamo; and Troop 207 of Orinda.

HOSTS TO GROUP

Explorers from Post 300, Orinda and Post 306, Danville ran the activity. Post 306 served as host group.

Deputy Lee Gallamore of the county sheriff's office was present at the start of the activity. He explained the "situation" and gave a description of the "child" when last seen.

"Pruenella," a large doll, was used as the object of the search.

SEARCH PARTY

Scouts, operating by Patrol, fanned out and searched a four square mile area, each Scout under the direction of his Patrol Leader. The search for the "child" was completed within two hours.

Eighteen adult leaders were present but served only as observers in this emergency preparedness activity.

COMMITTEE LISTED

Adults serving on the arrangements committee were: Ray Van Tassell, Danville commissioner for Scouting, also in charge of Diablo District Emergency Service; David Holstrom, Post 306 Advisor; Bert Handley, District Organization chairman; and Ian McLaughlin, Diablo District Commissioner.

The purpose of the affair was to give Scouts and Explorers a practical training in disaster preparedness. It will become a periodic Diablo District activity.

Garden Club to Hear Wertheim

Mt. Diablo Men's Garden Club will hold their monthly session at Planters Dock Monday evening at 6:30.

Ernest Wertheim, well-known landscape architect and consultant of San Francisco and Los Angeles, will be guest speaker.

Members are reminded of the question box for garden problems.

Hoodlums Break Into H.S., Fail In Try for Funds

Acalanes Union High School was broken into last Sunday night by a gang of hoodlums. The gang broke and unlatched a window in the women teachers' lounge to gain entry to the main office and school safe.

An unsuccessful attempt was made to crack the safe which contained $1,100 in gate receipts from Friday evening's football game with Diablo. All other shool funds had been deposited in the bank earlier.

The gang rifled files and desks in the school offices. They also gained entry to two class shops. According to school officials all loss and damage are covered by insurance.

If you love children — yours and your neighbors' — slow down when you drive home today.

We Say Hats Off To Jack Cummings

The SUN this week takes off its hat to H. L. Cummings, better known as "Jack."

For almost 18 years Jack Cummings has represented this and other sections of the Second Supervisorial District on the County Board of Supervisors. In this unincorporated community, he has been our sole link with county government.

Last week Supervisor Cummings, a resident of Crockett, was unanimously elected chairman of the Board, succeeding the late William J. Buchanan. This is the highest office Contra Costa has to offer a man.

Hats off to Jack Cummings!

First Graders' Parents Meet With Teachers

First grade teachers of Lafayette elementary schools met with the parents of their pupils this week in a continuation of the program to acquaint fathers and mothers with the classroom work designed to suit the growth and needs of the grade level.

The sessions for parents and teachers of the afternoon first grade boys and girls were held in the respective classrooms at the three schools Tuesday night. Similar meetings for the parents of morning first grade class pupils were held Wednesday night in the individual classrooms.

Meetings for the third grades of Lafayette and Vallecito Schools have been slated for November 6 Montecito third grade pupils' parents will attend their meeting on November 20, after the class is in its new Montecito schoolroom.

Parents of Lafayette and Vallecito pupils of the fourth grade classes will meet in their youngsters' classrooms on November 8 with the Montecito fourth grade meeting planned for November 16, at the new classroom.

The sessions are held in the evenings so that both parents will be able to attend and thereby get a better understanding of the school and class program.

ARM SIGNALS HELP

Signals clearly given and understood make for good teamwork both on the gridiron and on the highway. You can help reduce our traffic accident toll by making your arm signals clearly and deliberately, and by watching carefully for the signals of others.

Two New Classes In Adult Program

Two new classes have been added to the Acalanes Adult School program, according to David Stewart, adult director. Bookkeeping class taught by Mrs. Josephine Van Ogtrop will meet Wednesday evening 7:30 to 9:30; public speaking class directed by Miss Sally Rhinehart will meet Wednesday evening at the same time.

Four other classes are still open. Art metal, taught by Elmo Heard with a new shipment of metal just arrived; intermediate ceramics taught by Mrs. Marion Frank on Tuesdays, 7 to 10 p.m.; conversational Spanish, taught by Helen Ford Monday and Thursday, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., and a world affairs discussion class, directed by Walter Lipton on Wednesday, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

New classes in millinery, shorthand, photography, landscape gardening and other subjects are being planned for the winter quarter, January 8 to March 16.

Persons interested in attending winter quarter are invited to send a card to the high school listing the desired course and the sender's name and address so that they can be notified when the class starts.

Mail Those Xmas Parcels by Nov. 15

Christmas parcels for members of the armed forces serving outside the continental limits of the United States should be mailed by November 15 in order to reach them in time, according to notice from the Postoffice Department.

Personnel of our armed forces, members of their families and authorized civilian employees overseas who receive mail through an A.P.O. are included in the "Armed Forces Overseas" category for Christmas mailing.

Boxes to be sent overseas must be strongly constructed to withstand unusual handling conditions. Boxes of metal, wood, solid fiberboard or strong double-faced corrugated fiberboard, and tied securely with strong cord, are advised for mailing.

Size and weight restrictions are the same as those for domestic mailing, with the exception of parcels for delivery to A.P.O. 124 and A.P.O. 125, care of Postmaster, New York, where the weight maximum is 50 pounds. Domestic rates of postage are applicable for parcel post and air mail.

State Announces Job Openings

An examination to secure qualified applicants to fill the position of Chief, Bureau of Livestock Identification, vacated by the recent death of E. Clyde Harris, was announced today by the California State Personnel Board.

A dean of girls at the School for the Blind in Berkeley is a position open to women who have graduated from college and who have two years' experience teaching, supervising, and counseling children.

Applications for these and the following examinations must be filed by November 18:

Port Traffic Representative, $325-$395;

Assistant State Forest Ranger, $268 - $325.

Official application forms may be obtained from offices of the State Personnel Board located at 1015 I Street, Sacramento; 305 State Building, Los Angeles; and 107 State Building, San Francisco.

COAST GUARD SCHOOL

Congressman George P. Miller announces that nationwide competitive examination for entrance to the U. S. Coast Guard Academy, New London, Conn., will be held February 19-20, 1951.

New Board for Hospital Guild

Mrs. A. E. Bennett was one of the new administrative board members of Herrick Hospital Guild's gift shop, appointed at the October meeting of the group.

Other new appointees were Mesdames J. A. Crane, Alexander Heilbron, L. E. Brown, Robert Clos, Fred Clinchard, James Hilgesen, A. E. Maffly and James D. Davison.

Mrs. Spencer Britton is manager of the shop, which is maintained in the hospital to help defray expenses for needy patients.

County Announces Exam

Contra Costa County Civil Service Commission has announced a competitive examination for the position of account clerk. Salary range for the position is $247-$297 per month.

The final date for filing applications is November 3, 1950, and applicants must have been resident of Contra Costa County for one year immediately preceding that date.

Further information and the necessary application forms may be obtained from the Civil Service office Room 229, Hall of Records, Martinez.

Pandora Chapter Hears Mrs. Barrows Tell of Finding Homes for Orphans

The Pandora Chapter of the Children's Home Society met last week at the home of Mrs. Joseph Long. Members assisting her in serving a delicious buffet luncheon were Ivy Minor, afternoon room mother, Poulsen.

New members welcomed into the group were Mesdames Arthur Anderson, Robert M. Anthonisen, John Barchfield, Paul Booth, James Brown, William Hanley and William Houston.

Mrs. Martha Barrows of the Children's Home Society addressed the group of 35 women, giving a comprehensive review of the aims and work of the society in finding homes into which orphans may be adopted.

She explained necessary procedures on the part of would-be foster parents and dispelled as erroneous the rumor that this society was no longer functioning. She answered many questions of the group and succeeded in making all feel much closer to the fine work of the Children's Home Society.

13 Lucky Number in Building Permits

Permission to build six residences and garages granted to one owner-builder swelled to 13 the number of o.k.'s on construction of like units in Orinda area given out during the two-week period from October 7 to October 21.

The six will occupy Lots 139, 140, 142, 155, 161 and 163 at Roberts Road and Glorietta, Moraga Meadows tract No. 5, at an estimated cost of $10,209 each. Owner and builder is H. D. Malloch, Oakland.

The other permits were to:

Owner P. B. Wall, Oakland, builder W. J. Kraus, Oakland; portion 1333 Orchard Road, Moraga Estates, $14,970.

Owner C. C. Corsiglia, San Francisco; builder Edmond J. Bergeron, Oakland; portion of Lot 65, Don Gabriel Way and Valley View, Moraga Del Rey, $9,111.

Owner Garry Grover, Lafayette, Lot 23, Greenwood Court and Rheem Boulevard, Rheem Highlands, $10,208.

Owner Edward Dorreston, Orinda, Lot 302 and 303, Dos Pesos, Hacienda Del Orinda No. 2, builder M. Bergesen, Lafayette, $14,388.

Owner and builder W. N. Boysen, Orinda; portion of Lot 240, Lombardy Lane across from Long residence, Sleepy Hollow Tract No. 3, $30,750.

Owner and builder A. R. Winans, Oakland; Lot 38, Snow Berry Lane and Tarry Lane, Sleepy Hollow No. 1, $9,648.

Owner and builder R. L. Hinds, Albany; Lot 175, Lombardy Lane and Van Ripper Lane, Sleepy Hollow Estates No. 2, $10,095.

Miscellaneous permits granted were for the following construction:

Residence and carport, $7,800, owner Ben Mallory, Orinda; builder G. Warn & Sons, Oakland; portion Lot 65, Overhill Road and Moraga Boulevard.

Carport, $441, owner G. A. Gates, Orinda; builder J. Conners, Oakland; Lot 62, Block E, El Toyonal, Orinda Park Terrace.

Permission for residence alterations were given the following: Owner Roy Price, $800, Lot 285, Via Hermosa and La Espiral, builder Fowlei and Goodwin, Richmond; owner R. B. Fitzpatrick, $500, Lot 39 Ardilla Road, builder W. A. Rose, Oakland; and owner A. A. Pederson, $448, 72 Lombardy and Katrina Court, Sleepy Hollow Estates, builder W. Lebbert, Oakland.

Room Meetings Well Attended

The room meetings sponsored by the Orinda Mothers Club have been very well attended. Since these meetings are not primarily social, but include talks by Superintendent Joseph Sheaff and the teacher, with an important discussion period, it is suggested that mothers arrive at the opening of the meeting.

Meetings scheduled for the week from today through next Friday, November 3, are:

Friday, October 27, combined kindergartens of Glorietta School, Miss Haviside teacher, at the home of room mother Mrs. T. M. Harrer, 7 Oaks Circle, co-hostess Mrs. Har- Mrs. Edward Russ and Mrs. Alex 3 p.m.

Monday, October 30, combined third grades of Orinda School, teachers: Mrs. Du Bois and Mrs. Blessing, at the home of Mrs. W. C. Young, 246 La Espiral, co-hostesses are Mrs. Fred Twining and Mrs. Charles Blue, room mothers; time 3 p.m.

Wednesday, November 1, Mrs. Sheffield's third grade Glorietta School, at the home of room mother Mrs. B. P. Olsen, 11 Valley Drive, 2:30 p.m.

Friday, November 3, Mrs. Martinelli's 4th grade, Orinda School, at the home of room mother Mrs. Louis Ambler, 220 El Toyonal, 3 p.m.

The meeting originally scheduled for next Thursday of Mrs. Blessing's third grade, Orinda School, was combined with that of Mrs. DuBois' third grade, and will be held Monday. This change was made because the Juliette Lowe Tea is being held Thursday.

If you love children — yours and your neighbors' — slow down when you drive home today.

Jacobus' Visited By the Edwards

Mr. and Mrs. Webley Edwards of Honolulu have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Jacobus of Orinda Highway.

As radio announcer on the U.S.S. Missouri, Edwards broadcast the surrender of Japan. He has been in charge for some time of the program "Hawaii Calls," which is heard on the coast every Saturday.

Seafarers' Potluck Dinner Meet Tonight

Cissy Maddock At Stanford U.

Enrolled at Stanford University this year as a freshman and enjoying it tremendously is Cissy Maddock of Orinda, who graduated last June from El Cerrito High School.

Cissy is majoring in dramatics at Stanford, and many Orindans will remember her appearance in amateur theatricals here with the Orinda Dramateurs. She is the daughter of the Bill Maddocks of Valencia Road.

12-15 Meets Nov. 14

Next meeting of the 12-15 Club will be Tuesday, November 14, at the home of Mrs. Warren Harrold, 35 Ardilla Road.

Liquid Gold

It means a better living for you . . . for all California

Here's Herman Diekman, head of the Agricultural Department of Lodi Union High School. His job is to turn out tomorrow's successful ranchers and growers. A substantial portion of the funds that support San Joaquin County Schools comes from P. G. and E. taxes. And, P.G. and E., by the way, is California's largest property taxpayer.

Le Roy W. Snyder is a Pump Test Engineer in our Stockton Division. His job is to see that customers' pumping plants deliver the maximum amount of water at the minimum cost. P. G. and E. maintains 9 pump testing crews, saves many thousands of dollars for its customers, makes no charge for the 7000 tests it runs annually.

Irrigation water is California's liquid gold. Pumped onto farm land in P.G. and E. territory it increases average annual per-acre crop values twenty times!

This water, electrically pumped, helps grow 231 different crops; it has done much to make agriculture the basic industry of the state, with a gross annual farm income of 2 billion dollars. This huge sum flows into the channels of trade, creating jobs and prosperity in the cities as well as on the farms.

Yet, P. G. and E. electric power for irrigation pumping on the farm is so low in cost that, on the average, it constitutes only 3.5% of the farmers' crop production expense. And the rates the average farmer pays—just as the rates you pay—are among the lowest in the nation.

Paul Bertoli of Santa Rosa, like thousands of other California truck gardeners, cannot afford to wait for the rains; depends, instead, upon ample low-cost electric power to operate 3 deep-well pumps to flood his acres. So electric power shall continue ample on farm and in city alike, plentiful reserves have already been provided by P.G. and E.'s $800,000,000. postwar expansion program, with still more facilities being built.

Meet Kenneth Peake, dairyman, whose Claravale Guernsey Farm near Los Gatos is famous for its rich dairy products. Low-cost electric power has been a big factor in helping Mr. Peake toward success, as it has thousands of other dairymen, farmers and ranchers. Peake uses almost a dozen electric helpers; even his fence is electric. Yet his average monthly electric bill is only $24. "I don't see how anyone could beat the rates," he says.

Critic Touchy on 'You Touched Me'; Last Performance Is Tomorrow Night

By JULIUS ROSENTHAL

Whether you are touched by the Lafayette Playshop's current production of "You Touched Me!", of which tomorrow night's performance at Town Hall is the one remaining presentation, depends in large part on whether you are in a touchable frame of mind.

That means, for one thing, that you cannot take your seat shortly before the 8:20 curtain time, say to yourself or your companion, "This will probably be amateurish and hammy," and then expect to appreciate what's offered.

THREE STRIKES

If you have that attitude you have three strikes against you even before the auditorium lights are dimmed and the curtain goes up:

(1) You'll be unaware of the fact that the now-subtle, now-forthright three-act collaboration by Tennessee Williams and Donald Windham is difficult for even a professional company to perform; (2) you'll be unreceptive to the good points in the presentation; (3) you'll completely miss the point that the Playshoppers are admittedly an amateur group, made up of people who, outside of their regular daily chores, are striving to give this community some worthwhile theater.

NOT LEFT-HANDED

All of which, you may say, sounds decidedly like a left-handed compliment. But it really isn't meant that way. I'm simply trying to say that we should judge something for what it is, not for what we think it ought to be.

From this viewpoint and judging by last Saturday night's performance, we have a play which is advertised as a romantic comedy but which is more accurately a witbarbed drama in which the protagonists are life versus frustration, honesty versus hypocrisy, love versus hate and greed — and a cast which, although it does a fair job, does not succeed in grappling adequately with the theme.

Maybe the latter weakness is the fault of insufficient rehearsal. Certainly, all the actors show promise, and the Playshop is to be commended for attempting this play. But what's lacking is the feeling of a finished, smooth-clicking production.

CRISIS OVERCOME

During the two days in the 1946 spring in which the action takes place, a crisis occurs in human relations, within the close walls of a rural English home. The crisis is successfully overcome by the two young people, Lieut. Hadrian Rockley (Alan Sims) and Matilda Rockley (Lyn McKee), but the necessary subtleties in the acting of the roles is lacking, although both Alan Sims and Lyn McKee, one is sure, could do better after much more hard work.

Lillian Hefner as Emmie Rockley, the cruel, frustrated sister of Cornelius Rockley (William Bradbury), ex-sea captain, is somewhat more convincing, but the best performances, in this reviewer's opinion, are by Bradbury as the drink-loving, lusty-spoken old salt Phyllis Bradbury as the maid, Phoebe, and Theodore Simpson as the Rev. Melton.

To tell details of the story, in case you're not familiar with it, would be unfair, for it would spoil your enjoyment tomorrow night. Here's hoping that rehearsals since last weekend have improved the production so that, in contrast to last Saturday night, it really starts moving as it should during the first act.

Adventists Meet At New Location

Seventh-day Adventists of the Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Concord, Danville and Pleasant Hill area will meet hereafter in the Community Nazarene Church on Sunnyvale Avenue, two miles north of Walnut Creek on Highway 24.

Sabbath School will open at 9:30 a.m. and the worship hour will begin at 11 a.m. Saturday.

County Real Estate Boards Form Council; Anderson Named Chairman

On Wednesday, October 18th, at the Contra Costa Real Estate Board office in Walnut Creek, representatives of the five Real Estate Boards in Contra Costa County established a new organization known as "Council of Real Estate Board of Contra Costa County."

This council was formed by the Contra Costa Real Estate Board, Richmond-El Cerrito Board of Realtors, Martinez Real Estate Board, Concord Real Estate Board and the Eastern Contra Costa Board of Realtors.

Each Board has three representatives on the Council. The chairman for the first year is William F. Anderson of Walnut Creek. At the meeting, by-laws were adopted which call for, among other things, the following objectives:

To unite the Real Estate Boards of Contra Costa County for the purpose of effectively exerting a favorable influence upon matters affecting the real estate industry and the general public.

To afford a medium for the exchange of ideas, promotion of good fellowship and mutual advancements of programs to benefit all Realtors and the general public in this area.

This body will meet bi-monthly in different locations throughout the county and will act in a recommending capacity to each of the member Boards.

The Council pledges the utmost cooperation with civic and county officials and organizations to promote the welfare of Contra Costa County.

Our Boys

From Kimpo: Note In Candlelight By David Hindman

Latest news from David Hindman, son of the H. H. Hindmans of Las Huertas Road, Lafayette, is that he is now in Inchon, guarding and helping to process some 7,000 prisoners of war.

David was sent to Yokohama a year ago last month, and was with the first groups to be sent to Korea when the trouble started there. During the thickest of battles he was with a contingent guarding a tunnel out of Taegun, living in a fox-hole.

It was a great improvement, therefore, when he was moved into Taegun, in spite of the battle that was raging in and around it, because there he was bunked inside.

On October 8 he and 30 other M.P.s were flown to the Kimpo Airfield and before the letter written by candlelight was mailed they were sent to Inchon, where, presumably, he will remain for some time.

Bets are, according to his letters, that some of the men will be having Thanksiving dinner back in Yokohama, but the odds are not overwhelming for the M.P.s at this time, he writes.

Moraga, Canyon Host to Trustees

Moraya and Canyon Schools were joint hosts to trustees and principals of Acalanes High School and all the elementary schools in the Acalanes district at a dinner meeting held last night at Moraga School lunch room.

Similar sessions are held at intervals throughout the year for discussion of common school problems throughout the year.

Busch Teaching Band Music at Grammar Schools

Oscar Busch, music instructor at Acalanes High School, has also taken over these duties at Lafayette and Orinda Schools.

An hour period three days a week is devoted to instrumental music instruction for Lafayette students and two days a week the musical training time is given at Orinda.

Lafayette School District musicians from the fourth through eighth grades practice in Town Hall during their period.

For those students interested in buying their own instruments, a rental purchase plan has been made possible by Sherman and Clay.

RADAR INSTRUCTOR

A notice has been received from the United States Civil Service Commission that an examination for radar instructor and radar instructor (trainee) is being announced for filling positions at Keesler Air Force Base, Biloxi, Miss. Applications will be accepted until further notice.

Hill and Dale Gives 1st Dance

A number of cocktail parties at the homes of members preceded Hill and Dale's first dance of the season given last Friday night at Orinda Country Club.

Among those who hosted guests at their homes before attending the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lang, Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Ailes, the Seaver Ballards, the Eugene Shurtleffs, Dr. and Mrs. Wallace Greenlaw and the Dwight Chapmans.

Sponsors of this year's series of affairs for Hill and Dale are Messrs. and Mesdames Edgar B. Stewart, Robert L. Bridges, N. S. Dodge, Jr., William Fleager, William J. Babcock and George Richardson.

EXTEND DEADLINE

Applications for radio technician, previously announced by the Contra Costa Civil Service Commission with a final filing date of October 13, will now be accepted until November 10. County residence is waived.

Don't Be Fooled!

Proposition No. 6 is no "pension measure"!

It makes no change in pension eligibility requirements.

By licensing every known form of commercial gambling, and taking a cut from the profits, Proposition No. 6—according to its promoters—would provide a new fund for payment of present pension benefits now being met by general taxation.

But before one cent would be paid for pensions, all expenses of a newly created, self-chosen 5-Man Gambling Commission would have to be paid in full!

Under Proposition No. 6, gambling spots would be exempted from local taxes—yet local communities would be burdened by the huge cost of increased police protection against the horde of racketeers, gangsters and hoodlums that Proposition No. 6 would attract to California.
